Worcester Doctor Is Dead in Head-on Collision at Wayland; Woman Escapes

Dr. David Margolis of No. 102 Franklin street, Worcester, was killed today in Wayland when his automobile, in which a woman was also riding, crashed head-on into a Boston & Maine locomotive at Russell's Crossing.

The woman, although hurled out of the car in the crash, scrambled to her feet with no apparent injuries and disappeared. The police are endeavoring to learn the identity of the mystery woman, who narrowly escaped death. Passengers declared she boarded the train after the crash.

The wrecked car was carried for twenty-five yards on the locomotive cow-catcher after being struck. The unconscious form of the Worcester physician lay 100 feet away from the scene of the crash.

RUSHED TO HOSPITAL

He was rushed to the Waltham Hospital in a motor truck, but died soon after arrival. He was found to have sustained a fracture of the skull, fractures of both legs, several rib fractures and internal injuries.

Dr. Margolis was driving on the State road which runs parallel to the B. & M. tracks until they intersect at Russell's Crossing. The view in one direction is clear.

As he approached the crossing, the physician saw that the gates were down. The train, bound from Lancaster to Boston, pounded toward the crossing.

MACHINE SKIDDED.

Dr. Margolis jammed on his brakes. The machine skidded, broke broadside through the heavy gates and headed directly into the fast-moving locomotive.

The resulting crash threw the mystery woman out of the machine and hurled the physician nearly 100 feet. When the passengers poured out of the train after it was halted the mystery woman had vanished.

Mrs. Gertrude Martin, a nurse, and Warren H. Leece, a Boston policeman, who were passengers on the train, gave first aid treatment to the dying physician. The nurse and policeman declared they believed the woman who had been in Dr. Margolis' car afterward boarded the train.

VATICAN DENIES POPE MAY LEAVE IT

Rome, April 7 (A.P.)—The Vatican officially denied today the reports that the Pope, for any reason whatsoever, might leave the Vatican. The Pontiff's expressed wish that he could be present at the opening ceremonies of the Knights of Columbus welfare work building near St. Peter's had given rise to such reports.

Senator Pepper Asks New World Peace Conference

Washington, April 7.—A joint resolution proposing a world peace conference was introduced today by Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania.

The Senate would advise the President under the resolution that the time is suitable for the assembling of a conference similar to the two held in the past at The Hague.

The resolution set out these three things to be considered:

"Further reduction of all armaments; means of emphasizing the importance and influence of international law and plans for establishing and strengthening a "world court along the lines of The Hague tribunal."

RUM SMUGGLING JUMPS TEN MILLION

Booze Brought in Last Year Illegally Amounts to More Than $30,000,000

Washington, April 7 (U.N.S.)—America's billion dollar "invisible imports" of 1923 included smuggled liquor valued at $30,000,000, the Department of Commerce announced today.

The country consumed 310,000,000 more imported liquor in 1923 than during the previous year, according to estimates of the department.

The liquor imports, which do not appear on the books of the customs houses, were estimated from the amount of liquor officially reported as exported from countries suspected of furnishing the United States with the bulk of its supply, and amounts imported by neighboring nations.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover in an elaborate statement on international trade pointed out that the United States in 1923 had a gross favorable trade balance of $18,000,000. Exports of $4,205,000,000 value exceeded imports by $383,000,000, while invisible exports were $792,000,000, compared to $1,162,000,000 in visible imports.

Statistics disclosed the rapid change of the United States into a creditor nation and general prosperity of 1923. It seemed likely, according to the report, that this country will take a more active part in financing foreign enterprises in the future.

If foreign nations begin payment of their debts to the United States, imports probably will exceed exports regularly, the statement said.

General prosperity was disclosed by the fact that American tourists spent $500,000,000 abroad in 1923, an average of about $1,250 for each traveler. One hundred thousand dollars was expended by foreign tourists in this country, or approximately $500 a head.

From foreign sources the government received $259,000,000, while the government spent $19,000,000 abroad, including $12,000,000 on an arbitration award to Norway and $5,000,000 to Colombia on the treaty of 1914.

American investments abroad January 1 were given as $8,000,000,000, $2,500,000,000 in Canada and over a billion in each of Cuba, Mexico, South America and Europe. It was estimated American investors received $400,000,000 in interest from foreign sources.

$500,000 LOSS BY FLOOD

Bay State and Connecticut Towns Under Water as the Rivers Overflow Banks

New Haven, April 7 (U.N.S.)—Flood damage estimated at $500,000 has been done along the Naugatuck Valley from Winsted to Ansonia by a rush of water expected to reach its height tomorrow. New Haven and Central New England railroads have serious washouts and many bridges are threatened. Police at Waterbury used boats to rescue marooned families.

Flooded cellars and highways, leaking roofs, swollen rivers overrunning their banks, wash-out roads and sand-blocked trolley lines, resulted toda from the downpour of rain in Boston and throughout Massachusetts.

The roof of an annex at police headquarters succumbed to the steady rain and left cold streams down into a room occupied by twelve Boston police inspectors.

Coal hods, cuspidors and even Inspector William Connolly's derby hat were hastily requisitioned to catch the intruding rain.

Cellars were flooded in many parts of the city in the downpour that washed away the last vestige of Winter's snows.

TWO INCHES FELL.

With two inches of rain registered since the beginning of the raw, driving storm late yesterday, rivers in the central part of the State are rising rapidly.

The Westfield River, a tributary of the Connecticut River, spilled over its banks today at Springfield, cutting off trolley and highway traffic between Springfield and West field.

Trolley communication between Westfield and Huntington, several miles westward, was also halted by flooded highways. At one part of the road, where it dips into "Pros Hollow," ten feet of water covered the highway.

The Agwan river, which flows into Connecticut river at Springfield, went over its banks, bearing on the flood many logs and small trees.

Today's rise in the Westfield river

TWO DEAD AT HAVERHILL

AUTO DRIVEN BY HER EX-FIANCE KILLS GIRL

Haverhill, April 7.—Margaret Jackerott and George Welling had been sweethearts from childhood, but when she jilted him fate determined she should not be the wife of another.

Margaret and Frank Small, her new fiance, were walking arm and arm down the wooded section of Kenoza avenue, known as "Lovers' lane." Beside them walked another engaged couple—Edward H. Wentworth, action of a rich Haverhill family, and Miss Pauline Johnson.

From around a bend in the road flashed two automobile headlights. George Welling was driving the car. He did not see the two girls and two young men in the pathway ahead. His car struck the quartet, hurling them in all directions.

Margaret Jackerott was killed outright. So was young Wentworth. Small and Miss Johnson were seriously injured.

Welling collapsed. Later he was

FINDS THIEVING GOING ON AT NAVY YARD

Thefts of United States government property from the Charlestown Navy Yard have been occurring for some time, it was revealed today.

The thefts came to light through an order issued by the district commandant, Rear Admiral Louis R. de Steiguer, directing that all auto drivers and owners search their machines for government property before leaving the yard.

Considerable government property has been smuggled out of the navy yard in automobiles, while other attempted thefts were nipped at the gate by guards, it is understood.

The excuse given by some of those caught was that they knew nothing about the property found in their machines.

In Rear Admiral de Steiguer's order responsibility for government property found in machines is placed with the driver and owner of the car.

PAID HOTEL BILL FOR HARDING

Oil Probe Witness Says Hamon Told of Spending $25,000 at Chicago

Washington, April 7.—Tales of the prodigal use of money where politics was concerned by the late Jake Hamon, Oklahoma oil man and politician, were related to the Senate Oil Committee today in a session devoted to digging into the campaign chests of both Republican and Democratic parties.

J. B. French of Oklahoma City, a former business associate of Hamon's, told the committee the campaign of 1920 cost Hamon more than half a million dollars—$160,000 in getting himself elected Republican national committeeman, and $100,000 in carrying the State for Harding in November.

DOHENY CONTRIBUTIONS

Three other witnesses failed to add materially to the information which previously had gone into the record.

Wilbur W. Marsh of Iowa, former treasurer of the Democratic national committee, testified that he understood the committee's books before it could tell how much E. L. Doheny contributed to the Democratic fund in 1920.

Doheny, Marsh admitted, was a "heavy contributor" to the Democratic war chest.

French, in his testimony, also told the committee Hamon had informed him of the expenditure of $25,000 to pay the hotel expenses of Harding convention headquarters in Chicago.

"Did Hamon ever say anything to you about money he spent at the Chicago convention?" asked Senator Walsh.

"Yes, sir. He said 'I gave $25,000 on that the hotel bill of Mr. Harding at the Congress Hotel would be fixed.'"

"To whom did he say he gave it?"

"To Bill Miller."

Miller, a former Attorney-General of Ohio, managed Harding's preconvention campaign in Oklahoma.

"Did Hamon ever tell you what he expected to get out of all this?" pursued Senator Walsh.

"No," French replied.

Senator Spencer, in cross-examination asked:

"When you spoke of a $25,000 payment for Mr. Harding's hotel expenses, you did not mean his personal expenses?"

"No, it was for the Harding committee's expenses—headquarters expenses."

WIDOW IS CALLED.

Robert W. Wolfe, publisher of the Ohio State Journal at Columbus, assisted under repeated questioning that he had no first hand information concerning the famous 2 o'clock hotel conference on Harding's nomination and never had heard until recently of an attempt to make an oil deal for the nomination of Leonard Wood.

Subpoenas were issued today for William Miller, former attorney general of Ohio; Frank Ketch, former administrator of the Hamon estate and for the oil man's widow, who later took over the administration of the estate.

The search for William Boyce Thompson, former chairman of the finance committee of the Republican National Committee, was ordered pressed today with renewed vigor after process servers announced they had been unable to find him.

250 Summonsed for Breaking Auto Parking Law

The Spring drive against violators of the traffic regulations in Boston is on in earnest.

The police "traffic rovers"—Reid, Carlstrom, Mulligan, Logan, Hayes (1) and Hayes (2)—today obtained 250 summonses against persons who disobeyed parking rules last Thursday.

From now on there will be a daily "parade of the innocents" to municipal court for adjustment.

Captain Hoppe, head of the traffic squad, issued a warning proclamation April 1 to auto drivers every day is now a tag day for offenders.

Present System of Reparations Payment Is Doomed Under Dawes' Plan

Copyright, 1924, by Universal Service.

Paris, April 7.—The following semi-official summary of the report of the Dawes Committee of Experts was obtained from the highest sources here.

It reveals that the whole scheme is based on the relinquishment by France and Belgium of the whole system for the collection of reparations which has been built up in the Ruhr and Rhineland.

Not only the railways must be returned to Germany, but the tax receipts and other monies now collected by the Franco-Belgians must go into a special department of a new Gold Bank, created to bring sanity to German money.

The Dawes experts had two questions—First, to stabilize the German budget; second, to restore German currency to a gold basis.

They attacked the second question first. Counting paper money, bonds, rentenmarks, industrial bonds notes, divisionary money, and Treasury notes, Germany's currency totals 2,259,000,000 gold marks.

In order to bring back the gold basis, the experts propose a new bank of emission to replace the Reichsbank. It will have fourteen directors—seven Germans, one American, one English, one Italian, one French, one Dutch, one Belgian, and one Swiss, with a president, who will be a German.

The powers of emission will be limited by an absolute quantity and in order to prevent inflation, will

BODIES ARE FOUND IN BATHTUB

Crazed Dorchester Woman Stages Tragedy as Husband Is Sound Asleep

Mrs. Mary Caballone, of No. 241 Boston street, Dorchester, drowned herself and her month-old son in the bath tub of her apartment today.

Suffering from a nervous breakdown since she was discharged from the Carney hospital, two weeks ago, the woman was not permitted to be alone. When her condition became even more serious than usual, last night, the family physician, Dr. Amesbury, was summoned. He directed the husband, Denis Caballone, to maintain close watch over his wife until the physician called again today.

Husband and wife sat up in a bedroom and talked until long after midnight. The women at times appeared entirely rational.

DROWN IN BATHTUB.

Finally, the husband, who had scrubbed until his head fairly dropped, closed his eyes for a moment. All other noises had by this time ceased. What happened after that is only conjecture.

About 5:30 this morning Caballone awakened with a start. The apartment was still. He called for his wife, but there was no response. The baby's crib was empty.

Frantically the husband ran from room to room, but there was no trace of the wife and child. The bathroom was the last of the rooms visited. A horrible sight met the eyes of the husband the instant he threw open the door. The bathtub was filled with water and lying, face down in the water was Mrs. Caballone. Tightly clasped in the woman's arms and lying under her was the infant. Both had been dead for hours.

Grief stricken, the father pulled the two bodies from the tub. Frantically he worked over them, both without success. He then ran for assistance. Mrs. Annie M. Gibbons, who lives at No. 245 Boston street, hurried to the home and worked over the bodies in vain.

It was Mrs. Gibbons who finally told a policeman of the tragedy. An investigation followed.

Caballone told the police he had was without precedent and great damage is feared, should the river flood into the surrounding country.

In Fitchburg and other points in that vicinity the heavy rain tore great holes in hillside streets and sand, dashing down hills, piled up on trolley lines, effectively blocking traffic. Surface drains overflowed and a further extent of the flood, it is feared, may result in the shutting down of mills through water sweeping into boiler rooms.

Storm warnings were displayed today along the coast from Sandy Hook, N. J., to Eastport, Me., with the storm moving northeast. A continuance of the storm, with rain or Boston and vicinity and snow in northern New England, is predicted.

RESCUE 14 IN HIGH SURF FROM TANKER

Belmont, N. Y., April 7.—Fourteen men were landed in the breeches buoy through a towering surf early today from the tank steamer Amahuse which went aground on the beach opposite this town, a mile and a half west of Smith's Point Coast Guard station. The vessel, carrying a cargo of gasoline, was being pounded to pieces against the sands by the heavy seas as the rescue were effected. The surf was so high that the rescued men were much battered by the waves as they were being hauled ashore. They were taken to the coast guard station and cared for there.

FEDERAL COURT HAS CRONKHITE CASE

Washington, April 7.—Whether the United States had jurisdiction over Camp Lewis, Washington, at the time of the killing of Major Alexander P. Cronkhite there during the war period must be determined by the Federal Court of Washington where indictments were found, it was held today by the Supreme Court.

Under this decision the ruling of the First Circuit Court of Appeals was set aside. The Washington District Court will determine whether the trial of Roland R. Pothier of Providence, indicted in Washington after his confession that he had fired the shot which had caused the death of Cronkhite, will proceed.

POLICE 'GET THE DROP' AT HEADQUARTERS

TRAIN WRECKED BY PLOTTERS; 19 INJURED

Woonsocket-Boston Train Runs Into Open Switch at Millis

Millis, April 7.—A plot to wreck a passenger train was revealed when a Woonsocket to Boston local of the New Haven Railroad ran onto an open switch at the Clinquot Ginger Ale Company's siding and crashed head-on into three freight cars, seriously injuring nineteen persons and shaking up a hundred other passengers.

The locomotive of the train was so badly crippled in the crash that it was found necessary to substitute another locomotive to bring the train to Boston.

Engineer A. F. Ross was proceeding at a slow rate of speed.

By jamming on the brakes he kept his locomotive and the four passenger coaches on the rails despite the impact thereby preventing a probable loss of life. The injured:

Mrs. Marietta McNeil, 65 years old, of No. 1 Andrews Place, Boston. At Massachusetts General Hospital. Face and arm cut.

Leo Pisquny, 45 years old, No. 15 Haywood Place, Boston. At Massachusetts General Hospital. Broken jaw.

Mrs. M. J. Roach, Millis, injured arm. Taken to her home.

J. W. Hodge, Millis, nose broken. Taken home.

Mrs. F. D. LeChir, St. James Hotel, Woonsocket, several teeth knocked out. Taken home.

Joseph Charest, No. 8 Stanford Place, Brockton, arm injured. Taken home.

Cornell J. Erisaman, Millis, nose and knee injured. Taken home.

Conductor J. F. O'Donnell and J. E. Coburn, ticket collector—slightly injured.

The Rev. R. M. Tuscher, St. Joseph's Rectory, Medway, cut lip.

Dr. E. E. Fitzpatrick, Woonsocket, bruises.

Harry Wiseman, No. 101 Spruce street, Chelsea, shaken up.

Salvatore Cayuina, Medway, head and mouth cut.

M. H. Clancey, Millis, cut head.

Assistant Conductor W. F. Hall, abrasions of thigh.

PLOTTERS HUNTED.

Three investigations to discover the identity of the plotters are under way. F. S. Hobbs, superintendent of the Midland Division of the New Haven, is conducting the railroad probe. The Millis police and the State Police are also conducting investigations.

Four hours before the Woonsocket to Boston local ran into the siding, the switch had been closed. The forenoon train had used the tracks and the switch was closed.

SWITCH TAMPERED WITH.

Some time between the time the forenoon train left and the time the afternoon train arrived the switch had been tampered with.

A string of freight cars had been taken from the siding ten hours before the forenoon train passed over it.

Engineer Ross was hauling up on his brakes preparatory to a stop at the Clinquot station, when he came to the open switch. The brakes were grinding against the wheels of the locomotive as the cowcatcher struck the first of three freight cars.

HURLED FROM SEATS.

The impact and the sudden application of the brakes threw passengers from their seats and broke a dozen or more panes of glass in each car.

Passengers were thrown against the backs of seats ahead and this accounted for so many broken noses and injured arms.

The passenger train ran ten feet on the siding rails before crashing into the freight cars.

Millis and Clinquot are on the Woonsocket branch of the New Haven system.

FALL TRIED TO HALT MILLER FRAUD CASE

Wrote to Department of Justice Asking Postponement, but Met With Refusal

Washington, April 7.—Details of the Millers Brothers' land fraud cases in Oklahoma were reviewed today by the Senate Daugherty Committee.

Letters that passed between the Justice and Interior Departments and various individuals were read into the record and several witnesses were questioned as to why criminal prosecution of the case resulted only in impositions of fines, and why no civil suit to recover the land ever was filed.

One of the letters showed that Albert B. Fall tried while he was Secretary of the Interior to secure a postponement of trial, but the Department of Justice replied that the criminal suits must go forward. Most of the letters were presented by Edwin B. Booth, who served under Fall as Interior Department solicitor.

Senator Harreld of Oklahoma made a voluntary statement to the committee disclaiming any political interest in the prosecutions and saying he only had urged action because he felt everything should be done to protect the interests of the government.

He had learned to his surprise, he said, that the Department of Justice had asked for nothing but fines against those guilty and had made no move to recover the lands which are a part of the 101 Ranch.

JUST TAKEN UP.

It developed while Booth was on the stand that he now is engaged as special attorney for the Department of Justice in connection with civil suits in the Miller cases. They were assigned to him about March 1 of this year.

Booth said "there is no reason" why these civil cases were not turned over to him by the Department of Justice before March, 1924, but that he would prefer to tell the committee that reason "in confidence."

There was an argument when George B. Chamberlain, Daugherty's counsel, took up the cross-examination.

"My client is out of office on the strength of rum-running, rum-selling, convict testimony," Chamberlain said, "and he hasn't had a chance to put in a witness.

"I ask in all fairness that some of the gentlemen in the Department of Justice whose reputations are above objection be allowed to come here."

"Here is one of them now," Senator Wheeler observed pointing to Booth.

Senator Harreld had been mentioned in the testimony of former United States Attorney Peck of Oklahoma, who worked up the land fraud cases.

Senator Harreld said he "had heard rumors" that Peck was to be replaced because the Miller brothers wanted "to get him out of the prosecution" before the cases came to trial.

He went to Attorney-General Daugherty, he said, when he heard that Hiram W. Todd, Daugherty's former law partner, had been retained by the Miller Brothers, and urged that Peck be retained to prosecute these cases, and this was done. His chief interest, the Senator said, was to avoid any "scandal."

HARRELD SURPRISED.

Mr. Harreld said he was surprised to hear that pleas of guilty had been accepted in these cases by direction of the Department of Justice. Later, when he heard that no civil suits had been filed to recover the lands involved, he reported that fact to the Indian Bureau.

Friends of the Miller brothers had asked him to intercede in their behalf in Washington, Sena r Harreld said, but added that he did not care to go into that unless the committee desired to press it.

"SEED FOR SCANDAL."

Senator Harreld explained he thought there was "seed for scandal" in the fact that Todd was to defend George L. Miller and his associates.

"To Mr. Daugherty's credit, he saw the point immediately," Senator Harreld said, explaining how it had been arranged that Peck, the district attorney in Western Oklahoma under the Democratic administration, should continue as prosecutor. The Senator declared he regarded Peck as "a clean, fine, prosecutor."

When no civil recovery suits resulted, the Senator continued, the Indian office sent a man down to investigate.

He merely had "stirred the matter up in Washington," with relation to civil suits, he said, because he felt it was his duty as chairman of the Senate Indian Committee.

Booth, the next witness identified letters from the interior department transmitting the Miller cases to the Department of Justice. They were dated in April, 1923.

RUMORS OF INFLUENCE.

A letter from Secretary Fall, dated in April, 1921, was read, suggesting that the Miller cases be continued to the Fall term of court, chiefly because of the absence from Washington of the new Indian commissioner, who, the letter indicated, wished to make further investigation.

Wire Tappers Clean Up Fortune on Tia Juana Races

San Francisco, April 7.—Wire Tappers have collected between $50,000 and $150,000 from San Francisco bookmakers by switching the numbers of the actual winners at Tia Juana to those on horses on which members of their gang had bet, the San Francisco Examiner said today.

The wire tappers had "cut in" on the leased wire by which the Tia Juana returns were being sent to San Francisco bookmakers and intercepted the news of the winners. In relaying it to San Francisco they substituted the designations of the horses on which they had bet.

The trick was not discovered until long after the races were over and the bets paid, the Examiner said.

SCENT PLOT TO BLOW UP OLD FT. REVERE

Soldiers on Guard Have Orders to "Shoot on Sight to Kill"

Soldiers are keeping a day and night vigil about Fort Revere to prevent what Hull police and government officials believe to be a plot to blow up the fort.

The guards were thrown about the fort, following four fires of mysterious origin nearby. The last fire, which did $50,000 damage to the Nantasket Steamboat Company's pier, was started, police have discovered, after all fire alarm boxes in the town of Hull were made useless by being stuffed with paper and wood.

The fort is 100 yards in the rear of the destroyed pier. Hundreds of tons of fuel and powder were menaced.

The guard has been ordered to "shoot on sight." No strangers are to be allowed on the property. Two officers from the Army Intelligence Department are investigating the situation.

The "yacht club pier" fire is the fourth fire of mysterious origin on government property since January 1. Strangely enough, all fires have broken out in the immediate vicinity of the gasoline station and ammunition stores at the fort.

It is the belief of Chief Reynolds that a soldier-firebug is determined to blow up the great government stores, valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars, stored at Fort Revere.

forbid any credits to the Treasury. The new bank will not discount Treasury bonds except to private individuals.

The capital of the new bank will be 400,000,000 gold marks, one hundred million of which will be taken up by the Reichsbank. The balance will be divided into 3,600,000 hundred mark shares which will be offered to the public.

The aim of the new bank will be to buy in all the rentenmarks amounting to 1,200,000,000 gold marks, which it will do with the subscribed capital of 400,000,000 gold marks, with Reichsbank gold totaling 400,000,000 gold marks, and an additional 400,000,000 to be raised by an international loan.

A special department of the new bank will be created to receive the various receipts provided for in a second plan which is a railway society with a capital of 22,000,000,000 gold marks organized on the same lines as the bank.

This capital will be divided into 11,000,000,000 ordinary shares to be taken up by the German government and 11,000,000,000 preference shares bearing six per cent, of which five per cent. will be for interest and one per cent. for a sinking fund. These obligations will be deposited with the committee on reparations, who will issue them to the world markets.

The next step will be the creation of a holding company to manage a first mortgage of 10,000,000,000 gold marks on industrial and land property. Of these shares 6,000,000,000 will go to the Allies for issuance and 4,000,000,000 to the German govern ment.

"ABIE'S IRISH ROSE" AUTHOR DIVORCED

White Plains, N. Y., April 7.—Miss Anne Nichols, author of "Abie's Irish Rose," Broadway's present record holder for the longest run, has obtained a divorce from Henry Duffey, a theatrical man, it was learned today. The decree was granted two weeks ago by Surrogate Court Justice Taylor. Miss Dorothy Newcomb of Washington, D. C., was named as corespondent. The couple was married in Hoboken, N. J., in 1918. They have one child, a five-year-old boy.

been married five years. The first child, Mary Elizabeth, was born three years ago. When the second child, Jeremiah, was born a month ago, the mother came near losing her life. She finally left the hospital with her nervous system completely shattered.

The little daughter of the couple was sent to Somerville to live with relatives until Mrs. Cahalone recovered her health. It was only during the past several days, however, that the woman's condition became such that it was feared she would endeavor to end her life.

The husband is employed in a paper box factory in Cambridge. He planned to remain from his work today, staying with his wife until the physician had another opportunity to examine her.

The medical examiner, after viewing the bodies, ascribed both deaths as being due to "drowning."

DIPTHERIA VACUUM PUMPS TO BE SHOWN

New York, April 7 (C.N.S.).—An electrical device on the order of a miniature vacuum pump, which had been used with success in treating diphtheria cases in the hospital of this city, will form a part of an electro-therapeutic exhibit to be held this week by the New York Edison Company.

It is said that since the pump has been put in general use in hospitals here, the diphtheria death rate has been reduced from 32 1-3 per cent. to 10 per cent.

INVITE GANDHI TO PARLEY IN LONDON

London, April 7.—A report that the British government has invited Mohandas Gandhi, D. B. Das and the extremist leader, Motilal Nehru, to a conference in London is recorded by the Daily Telegraph's Calcutta correspondent, who adds that Gandhi and Das refuse to comment, while Nehru will only say "there is nothing improbable in the rumor."

The correspondent declares the leading politicians are inclined to anticipate some such step, everybody agreeing that early action regarding the Indian constitution is inevitable.

placed under arrest charged with manslaughter.

When taken before Judge John J. Winn in district court today Welling pleaded not guilty to a charge of manslaughter. His attorney, Fred erick H. Macison, asked that the case be continued until Saturday. The police did not object and this was done. Welling was given his liberty on $2,000 bail.

Miss Jackerott was twenty-four years old. Her home is at No. 153 Webster street. She was a bookkeeper employed by Archibald Esterbrook, a shoe manufacturer and chairman of the Republican City Committee.

Miss Johnson, who suffered a fractured leg and body injuries, was taken to her home, No. 339 Kenoza avenue, a short distance from the scene of the accident. She is 22 years old.

Welling, who is twenty-one, is a garage mechanic, and lives at No. 424 Kenoza avenue.

Wentworth, who was 25 years old, lived at No. 675 Main street. He was a member of the Harding Shoe Manufacturing Company. His father, J. M. Wentworth, is general manager and heavy stockholder in the C. H. Hayes Box Manufacturing Corporation.

TWO AUTOISTS HELD ON DRUNK CHARGE

Richard Walker of No. 131 Sutherland road, Brighton, was arraigned today in Brighton court, charged with drunkenness and operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. The case was continued for one week. Walker, Lippincott, a companion of Walker in the machine, pleaded not guilty to a drunkenness charge and the charge was filed. Both were arrested after their car narrowly missed a Brighton trolley car.

DENBY, THOUGH OUT, STILL FOR COOLIDGE

Washington, April 7.—Edwin Denby, who was forced out of President Coolidge's Cabinet, as a result of the naval oil leasing disclosures, today sent a telegram to Michigan urging Republicans to support President Coolidge in tomorrow's primary there, where he is opposed by Senator Hiram W. Johnson.

CINDERELLA LOOTS ANOTHER HOME IN LYNN DIAMOND DISTRICT

FOOTMARKS CLEW NEAR WINDOW

Police Hunt Girl Wearing 4-B Slipper; Male Companion Is Also Sought

Police of Lynn and the surrounding towns are searching the highways and byways for "Cinderella"—the girl bandit with the perfect foot.

For the second time within twenty-four hours the Cinderella bandit and her male escort has made a clean getaway from a home in the Diamond district of Lynn with loot worth many hundreds of dollars.

The home of Mrs. Frances Lamb Johnson at No. 12 Atlantic street, Lynn, is the latest place to be visited by the Cinderella robber. In the soft earth in the garden beneath a window the robbers forced was an impression of a perfect foot —a 4-B slipper.

Mrs. Johnson is in Florida. The girl and her escort worked unhampered and made away with several fur coats, a number of fine dresses, silverware and other articles, the total value of which is hundreds of dollars.

Alongside the prints of the dainty female foot were the heavier imprints made by the companion of the girl.

On Saturday night the home of Frederick Low on Prescott road, Lynn, was entered in the same manner as the Johnson home. Silk underwear valued at $1,000 was taken. In the garden beneath the window the thieves forced was the clear impression of the same Cinderella foot.

Police have measured and checked the footprints at both places and are convinced the same girl engaged in both robberies.

JUNGLELAND ENVOY PAYS VISIT TO U. S.

Here's Mr. John Daniel, ambassador from the faraway African jungles and his nurse, Miss Alice Cunningham. John crossed the ocean in style as a first-class passenger on the liner Deutschland.. He had nothing to say about the League of Nations or Monkeyland politics. He will enter the circus business here. He is a little bit camera shy and his nurse had to hug him close when the photographers got busy. He is one of the most intelligent gorillas in captivity. Doesn' he look it?

LELAND TO FIGHT FORD IN COURT

Tales of His Great Generosity All Myths, Auto Man Charge

Detroit, April 7.—Henry Ford, Mrs. Ford and Edsel Ford are to be brought into court in a bitter legal and personal quarrel over millions if Henry M. and Wilfred C. Leland of Detroit carry out the intimations which they made in a letter to Ford.

Charges that Ford broke faith in promises to repay persons who had invested money as part of his $17,500,000 Lincoln deal; that tales of his remarkable generosity which were floated at the time of his Presidential boom were false; that he invoigled supposed old friends into a deal and then by secret intrigue took advantage of them and forced them out—these are elements in what will prove a celebrated case if it comes to trial.

For months, through published articles and statements from persons in close touch with Ford, a public impression has been given that Ford generously paid more for the Lincoln plant than it was worth; generously paid $4,000,000 to creditors who had no legal strings on him; generously had made good or planned to make good losses of stockholders.

LEGAL OBLIGATIONS.

This rose-colored picture is mythical, the Lelands assert. They charge Ford has done nothing he was not legally obligated to do and that he has failed to fulfil specific conditions of the Lincoln sale.

It was a condition imposed by them, they assert, that he undertake to repay Lincoln stockholders, but this, despite his agreement, had not been done and his attorneys had opposed repeated demands of the Lelands that stockholders be recompensed.

Ford paid creditors $4,000,000 only because he was legally obligated to do so, the Lelands assert, and it had been paid only after his attorneys tried to maintain the position that original conditions worked out by the Lelands and Ford prior to the formal sale in court had been changed to a price of $8,000,000 for the Lincoln property instead of the $5,000,000 at first contemplated.

SPITE CHARGE.

Ford not only did not pay more than the property was worth, they say, but when they offered to repurchase it from him at the sale price plus interest, on the ground he had not carried out his agreement, he declared: "I wouldn't sell the Lincoln plant for $500,000,000. I had a purpose in acquiring that plant and I wouldn't think of letting go of it."

This purpose, the Lelands assume to involve personal enmity arising from Ford's departure from the Detroit Automobile Company in 1902.

During months of personal negotiations the younger Leland once drove past a guard on the Ford estate, disregarding a rifle leveled at his breast, to plead two hours with Ford that original promises be carried out.

REWARD 7 FOR ACTS OF VALOR

Medals Given Telephone Company Employes in Recognition of Bravery

Heroic deeds on the part of seven employes of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company during 1923 were rewarded when five were awarded Vail medals and two received honorable mention.

Those who received Vail medals, commemorating the late Theodore N. Vail, are:

Sadie Collins, junior supervisor, at South Deerfield.

Frances A. Shea, senior operator, at Woburn.

Mrs. C. S. Tillinghast, class F agent, at Hopedale.

Carl Carty Wilson, guardman, at Boston.

William H. Wyatt, cable splicer, at Brockton.

HONORABLE MENTIONS.

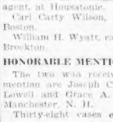
The two who received honorable mention are Joseph C. Jennings of Lowell and Grace A. Enwright of Manchester, N. H.

Thirty-eight cases of noteworthy service were considered before five medal winners were chosen. The two who received honorable mention were not presented medals because their acts were not strictly in line of telephone duty.



Wm. H. Wyatt.

Sadie Collins was cited for having warned residents and neighbors and called firemen when she was informed by telephone at her South Deerfield switchboard that farm buildings in the town were afire. As a result of her action, the fire was checked and most of the buildings were saved.

SAVES GAS VICTIM.

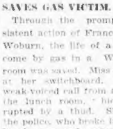
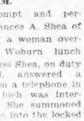
Through the prompt and persistent action of Frances A. Shea of Woburn, the life of a woman overcome by gas in a Woburn lunch room was saved. Miss Shea, on duty at her switchboard, answered a weak voiced call from a telephone in the lunch room, which was interrupted by a thud. She summoned the police, who broke into the locked lunch room and revived the woman.

Mrs. C. S. Tillinghast was aroused from sleep at her home in Housatonic in the dead of night to discover that a wooden block across the street was burning and that the flames threatened the whole village.



Carl C. Wilson



Mrs. C. S. Tillinghast

She worked at her switchboard, summoning aid from the village and nearby towns. The building in which she worked caught fire. She was obliged to work under a tarpaulin tent, pitched over her switchboard to shelter her from water being poured on the building.

RESCUES HELPER.

William H. Wyatt, working as a cable splicer in a Brockton manhole, rescued Edmund E. Finnegan, his helper, after the latter had been overcome by gas. Wyatt himself, after he had lifted his companion from the manhole, lapsed into unconsciousness from the gas.

Carl Carty Wilson saved the lives of two fellow workers, Anthony H. Thoennes and Joseph F. McNeil, when he removed a kettle of burning paraffin from a pit in which they had been working. Wilson was painfully burned.

Joseph C. Jennings of Lowell revived a boy apparently drowned and Grace A. Enwright of Manchester, N. H., rescued an exhausted girl swimmer from drowning.

DENOUNCE LIEUT.-GOV. OF R. I.

G. O. P. Convention Flays Senate Head; Delegates Urged to Support Coolidge

Providence, R. I., April 7.—Resolutions requesting the Rhode Island delegations to the Republican convention to "use every reasonable means" to secure the nomination of Calvin Coolidge and a statement criticizing and condemning the Lieutenant-Governor as presiding officer of the Rhode Island Senate were adopted today at the Republican State convention.

Thirteen delegates to the Cleveland convention were elected.

In addition to the keynote address, delivered by Representative Samuel P. Davis, Congressman Everett Sanders of Indiana discussed national issues.

Senator Arthur L. Sherman of Portsmouth and Mrs. Edward S. Moulton scored the attitude of the Lieutenant-Governor amid the Democratic minority in the State Senate.

Resolutions condemning the Ku Klux Klan as "a threat to our institutions and destructive of our fundamental law" were offered by G. Edward Buxton.

MUSSOLINI'S WINNER BY 230,000

Fascisti Makes Clean Sweep in Parliamentary Elections Held in Italy

Rome, April 7.—Premier Mussolini was triumphant in the general election. Fascisti chieftains claim election of 356 deputies, leaving only 179 seats in Parliament to the opposition.

The final result in Rome shows the Fascist vote to be 42,040; Catholic, 8,187; Republicans, 5,588; Social Communists, 4,912; Maximalist Socialists, 3,664; Unitarian Socialists, 2,610; Liberals, 2,947. In Milan the result was: Fascists, 63,391; Unitarian Socialists, 27,578; Maximalist Socialists, 14,923; Catholics, 14,460; Communists, 7,789.

The total Fascisti vote recorded so far is 330,140 against 98,941 for all opposition parties.

Stops Runaway Horse in Midst of Rowe's Wharf Traffic

Traffic Officer George Handlin at Atlantic avenue and Rowe's Wharf, probably saved a number of lives today when he stopped a runaway horse attached to a Milk team.

The horse became frightened and dashed toward a group of people just leaving the Rowe's Wharf station. Handlin grabbed the bridle, was dragged several hundred feet, but finally brought the horse to a stop.

LYNN GIRL, OUT OF WORK, TRIES TO END LIFE

Shoe Factory Employe Swallows Poison When Driven to Despondency

Despondent because she was out of employment, Bertha Brown, seventeen-year-old shoe factory worker, tried to end her life today by swallowing iodine. Her name is on the danger list at Lynn Hospital.

The girl's home is at No. 15 Lincoln street, Lynn, but last night she spent at the home of a girl friend on Locust street. Today she was found suffering from the poison.

Several weeks ago Miss Brown lost her job in a Lynn shoe factory. She has since been unable to obtain employment.

Because of the amount of poison swallowed by the girl her condition is considered critical.

TWO AUTOS WRECKED IN MEDFORD CRASH

One man was injured and two automobiles completely wrecked when the machines crashed head on at Forest and Elm streets, Medford, today. Lester C. Lewis of No. 253 Salem street, Wakefield, sustained a deep cut over the left eye and a cut in the left leg when the entire side of his car was crushed in the collision. He was treated at the emergency station of the Metropolitan District Police. Alexander Miller of No. 152 Talbot street, Dorchester, owner and driver of the other machine, escaped without injuries.

OUST MAYOR WHO REFUSED FLOOD AID

Kitzmiller, Ind., April 7.—Because he told out-of-town newspapers that this town of 3,000 people—virtually wiped out by the floods of last week —needed no assistance, Mayor Bert Pew has been deposed by the townspeople and a new mayor, M. J. Pratt, installed. The new mayor issued an appeal today for money, food and clothing to relieve suffering among the victims.

GORILLA COMES TO AMERICA IN FIRST CABIN

"John Daniel" Crosses Sea in Style, Under Charge of His Own Private Nurse

New York, April 7.—John Daniel, special envoy from French Africa to the United States, arrived here aboard the new Hamburg-American liner Deutschland for his first visit in this country. A special boatload of governmental and city dignataries went down the bay to greet the celebrated newcomer.

Dexter Fellows, Lester Thompson and several other well-known New Yorkers who had arranged his reception made up the special party to welcome the distinguished foreigner, who is the first traveler from the faraway land of the French colonial possession to visit America in several years.

Mr. Daniel was found seated quietly in Suite 20 on the promenade deck with some friends who had journeyed with him from his native land and had been with him during a short stopover in London before continuing his trip to the United States.

Mr. Daniel does not speak English, but greeted each welcomer cordially and, much like Georges Clemenceau, the Tiger, shook hands in silence.

Mr. Daniel is short and stocky, with a rather large head that, much like that of David Lloyd George, seems to dwarf his body. He seems to have the head of a giant on the body of a midget.

During the interview Mr. Daniel stroked his chin with his long slender and well manicured fingers much in the fashion of a man contemplating a shave. In fact, Mr. Daniel perhaps was more in need of a shave than any celebrity to arrive here in many, many moons—that's saying no trivial thing, either!

You see, John Daniel is a three-year-old gorilla, the nearest thing to a human being in captivity, who had been traveling first-class eating his meals of chicken and other foods privately and behaving quite like any ordinary passenger. He will enter the circus business here.

BROTHERS GUILTY IN BROOKLINE ROBBERY

John and James Harrington, brothers, of Chapman street, Charlestown, were found guilty today by Brookline Court of housebreaking and entering the Coolidge Corner Bowling Alleys in Harvard street, Brookline.

John was given a suspended sentence at Concord Reformatory, while James was given a similar sentence at Shirley. Both were placed on probation.

NUDE DANCE STORY RESULTS IN WARRANT

Asbury Park, N. J., April 7.—Three warrants charging perjury were issued for the arrest of Walter C. Tyndall, printer and active church member, by City Magistrate Bordley today. The warrants were issued on the complaint of three business men who were alleged in an affidavit written by Tyndall to have attended a dinner at a Deal Inn last Thursday at which city officials indulged in drinking and witnessed nude dancing. The three complainants are Isaac Berger, chairman of the committee of last week's business show; Walter R. Applegate of the Eastern New Jersey Power Company, and Perley B. Cabe.

Tyndall's affidavit was submitted to the Civic Church League, members of which preached against the alleged immoral conditions in the city from their pulpits yesterday. The Ku Klux Klan has joined the league in an announced drive to clean up the conditions.

FAILS TO IDENTIFY RAY CASS AS "PIRATE"

The fight of the Canadian government to have extradited Ray Cass, Somerville fight promoter, for piracy on the high seas, was continued today before United States Commissioner Wheeler. Cass, alleged to have boarded the British schooner J. Scott Hankinson, off Thatcher's Island, last August, has been identified by Arthur Moore, captain of the schooner, and Harry Harris, the cook. Herbert Williams, former member of the Hankinson's crew, testifying today, said because of his eye trouble he could not identify Cass.

PASSION PLAYERS' VISIT HERE DELAYED

The Oberammergau Passion Players will arrive in Boston Wednesday morning, their appearance scheduled today, having been delayed by temporary illness of Anton Lang, the Christus, and Guido Mayer, Twelve of the artisans traveling with the players arrived today and began preparations for the exhibit of wood carving to be opened to the public in Mechanics' Building at 1:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The players will be greeted at City Hall Wednesday noon by Mayor Curley. After these exercises the visitors will be taken to the State House, where they will be welcomed by Governor Cox. Edmund Schmidt, one of the group of fifteen players, lived in Boston for several years.

FEAR "MYSTERY MAN" MAY BE KIDNAPED

Atlanta Prisoner, Alleged to Hold Hooded Mob Murders Solution, Vanishes

(Copyright, 1924, by International News Service.)
(Reproduction in Whole or in Part Absolutely prohibited.)

Atlanta, Ga., April 7.—A "man of mystery," who boasted of holding a solution to the ghastly hooded mob murders of Mer Rouge, Louisiana, which shocked the nation in the Winter of 1922-1923, was sought today by every agency of the government following his quiet disappearance from the federal prison here.

The "man of mystery" was Dr. A. C. Busey Klaneman, and one time oil millionaire who dissipated a fortune won in the oil fields and wandered at last outside the law.

An honor man on the prison farm, Busey has mysteriously dropped out of sight, although his sentence had to run but a few months. He took away with him one of the most fantastic crimes stories ever conceived and no sensational a solution of the Mer Rouge murders as to astound the nation.

Because of the murder evidence he claimed to hold, friends of Busey feared he may have been kidnaped from the penitentiary for deportation from the country or carried away to a violent death by men who dreaded publication of his story.

U. S. ENVOY HELPING MEXICO'S BIG LOAN

Mexico City, April 7 (I.N.S.).—Mexico hopes to obtain a $35,000,000 loan in the United States with the assistance of Charles Beecher Warren, the new American Ambassador. California banks are said to be interested in the negotiations. John H. Rossetter, former head of the United States Shipping Board, will act as financial adviser to the Mexican government. It is pointed out that Mexico is one of the few nations that is meeting interest upon its foreign debt and that it is keeping its other international obligations to the best of its ability. While details for securing the loan have not been worked out, it is believed that the petroleum tax will be pledged as collateral.

PICK COOLIDGE TO WIN IN MICHIGAN

Washington, April 7 (Universal).—Primaries today and tomorrow will furnish a test of strength for aspirants for the G. O. P. nomination.

That in Michigan today, it is believed, will be counted in the Coolidge column without serious opposition, but in Illinois and Nebraska tomorrow Senator Hiram Johnson and the President are expected to run a close race.

Both sides declared today their confidence of victory.

Milton Society Women Planning to Aid Army and Navy Club, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.

UNDER the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles S. Minot of No. 227 Marlboro street, the Milton committee is planning an unusually interesting program as part of the Army and Navy Club's Patriots' Week.

Winners of the competitive cup awarded at the Army and Navy Ball this year will give a demonstration drill at the Milton Town Hall on the evening of April 24. There will be a full military band.

Mrs. Stuart Thomson, charmingly costumed, will sing Chinese and French songs, accompanied on the piano by Malcolm Lang and on the harp by Mr. Holy, who will also give solos. Another attraction of the entertainment will be the patriotic film "Hats Off" which has been lent to the committee by the Colonial Dames.

Mrs. Minot's committee is composed of Mrs. Robert Amory, Mrs. Jesse H. Baxter, Mrs. Ernest Bowditch, Mrs. Philip S. Dalton, Mrs. Maurice Duffy, Mrs. Augustus H. Eustis, Mrs. James Lawrence and Mrs. Norton Wigglesworth, as well as Jesse H. Baxter, Philip S. Dalton, R. Nason Hamlin, Mrs. Charles S. Rackemann and Norton Wigglesworth.

Tickets at $1 and 50 cents may be obtained from the committee or at the Town Hall on the evening of the entertainment. The proceeds will help the Army and Navy Club to carry on its splendid work for service men and disabled veterans.

A NOTABLE group of matrons headed by Mrs. William F. Warden and Mrs. E. Sohier Welch are gathering all sorts of novelties for a sale to be held a week from tomorrow at Mrs. Archibald Blanchard's home, No. 204 Commonwealth avenue.

Mrs. Freeman Allen

A unique attraction will be a "bon voyage" table, displaying all sorts of going away gifts. The sale will benefit the James Marsh Jackson League, which enables convalescents to find remunerative occupation.

Assisting Mrs. Warden and Mrs. Welch for the sale on the 15, are Mesdames Freeman Allen, Gerald Bramwell, Horace Binney, Allan Forbes, Wallace Goodrich and Henry S. Grew.

EVERYONE is still discussing "Wake Up," and resounding the praises of every Vincentite connected with it.

Miss Margery Richardson, one of the prettiest debutantes of two Winters ago, was one of the "dragons" in the gorgeous Mah Jong scene. In this she wore a shimmering greenish costume and did dances savoring of the Far East.

She made a very different picture as a charming Colonial lad with powdered wig in the Dresden Shepherdess dance, one of the daintiest bits in the show.

Miss Richardson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. W. Richardson of "Lanesde," Charles River Village. It was at "Lanesde" that the Richardsons gave one of the jolliest bud functions of the past Winter. The affair was in honor of Miss Richardson's twin cousins, the Misses Phyllis and Susanne Richardson, debutante daughters of the Philip Richardsons of Brookline.

MISS MARGERY RICHARDSON

Praises are still reverberating for "Wake Up," Vincent Club show, in which Miss Margery Richardson was both a "dragon" in the Mah Jong scene and a Colonial lad in the Dresden Shepherdess dance.

Officials Reject Offer for Essex County Building as "Inflammable"

Washington, April 7 (C.N.S.).—Plans are being worked out by officials of the United Veterans' Bureau for building two additional hospitals in Eastern Massachusetts, according to reliable information gained here.

One of the hospitals will be for treatment of tuberculosis patients, and the other for nervous and mental cases. These will give Massachusetts five veterans bureau hospitals, the three present institutions in the State being located at West Roxbury, Northampton and Rutland.

Reports indicate that the veterans' bureau will not purchase the Essex County Tuberculosis Sanitarium at Middleton, which the county commissioners have offered the government, for $1,000,000. Officials of the bureau have reported the building undesirable for the government's use, declaring that it does not come up to fireproof specifications.

Essex county commissioners have informed Congressman A. Piatt Andrew that the cost of the hospital, including grounds and furnishings, was more than $1,000,000 and that the institution cannot in any sense of the word be regarded as "inflammable."

BROKEN PLANE DELAYS AIR GLOBE TROTTERS

Prince Rupert, B. C., April 7.—Pending repairs to the flag plane, Seattle, damaged in landing, the four United States army air cruisers on a globe-encircling journey, will remain here indefinitely, according to Major Frederick L. Martin, flight commander. "I cannot make any statement as to the probable date of our departure for Sitka, Alaska, our next stopping place, until after we have thoroughly inspected the Seattle," Major Martin said.

The Seattle in landing in a combination of wind and snow flurries, hit the water so hard two struts were broken.

The French barquentine Jasques De Courscamp was reported in mid-ocean ablaze and apparently deserted in a wireless message reported by a coast guard cutter.

The stricken vessel was placed at latitude 46:30, longitude 32:40.

15 LIVES TAKEN BY AUTOS LAST WEEK

Brings Total of Fatalities in Past Thirty-six Days to Thirty-eight

Fifteen persons were killed by motor vehicles in Massachusetts last week, breaking all records of the year, according to figures made public by Frank A. Goodwin, State registrar of motor vehicles.

Complete figures, issued by Goodwin show that in thirty-six days after March 1, there were thirty-eight lives snuffed out in the State by automobiles or trucks.

The large number of fatalities last week is equalled by the number of persons convicted of driving motor vehicles while intoxicated. There were forty-two drivers convicted, and although fourteen jail sentences were imposed, only two of the offenders are actually in jail, the others having appealed the sentences and are now at liberty on bail.

Unless drastic steps are taken to curb the drunken and reckless autoists, the death toll is bound to increase each week with the advent of warm weather, according to Goodwin.

Of the fifteen persons killed last week, ten were adults and five were children.

REUNITED TO FAMILY AFTER FIFTY YEARS

New York, April 7.—John N. Norris, minstrel, after years of "trouping," has been reunited with the wife and son he had not seen for fifty years. In his young days he eloped with pretty Elizabeth Myers, who was fourteen. After a son came Norris tried to persuade Elizabeth to join him in a stage venture. But she refused and he disappeared. She divorced him in 1874, moved to Ridgefield Park, N. J., and there the boy, William, became a prosperous business man, married and raised two children. Reading a lodge magazine he came across the story of a brother Elk. It was John F. Norris, seventy-three, retired minstrel of Evansville, Mich., who had been known on the stage as "Johnnie Burton." Today "Johnny" is home in Ridgefield and William and Elizabeth may remarry.

CAPTURE THREE IN DOORWAY HOLDUP

Taken After Chase in West End, While the Victim of Theft Disappears

Joseph Merino, Anthony Chicola and Charles Castallini were captured today in the West End after fast work by Patrolmen Barry, Heffernon and Shea of the Joy street station.

In Municipal Court they were held in $1,000 for the Grand Jury.

Shrill cries from a man in a Leverett street doorway attracted the attention of the policeman.

"I've been robbed. They took $80 from my pocket," the voice in the doorway cried. The victim's clothing was torn and he bore evidence of rough handling.

Some distance a man started running at sight of the police. It was Chicola. After a short sprint he was captured. Returning to the station with their prisoner, the policemen espied two men on Leverett street.

One was bareheaded. They were Merino and Castallini. Both were arrested.

Police say Merino and Chicola have records, the latter having been released from the Federal prison at Atlanta only recently.

When the policemen returned to the scene of the robbery they were unable to find the victim. West End police believe the trio are implicated in a recent series of doorway holdups in Leverett, Cambridge and Staniford streets.

STABBED, REFUSES TO NAME FOE

Lawrence, April 7.—Diego Accaputo, thirty-five, of No. 61 Union street, is at the Lawrence General Hospital with a stab wound above the left hip. He refuses to tell how he came by the injury.

Accaputo appeared at his room early today suffering from the wound. He was muttering about "getting" somebody when he was removed to the hospital.

A short time later, Joseph Lonzo, of No. 333 Elm street, turned over a big knife to the police. He told the authorities he took the knife from one Paul Peter, when the latter was fighting with Accaputo on Lawrence street.

Lonzo displayed a four-inch slit in the back of the coat, which he said resulted when Peter lunged at him with the knife. The police are searching for Peter.

MYSTERY FIGHT SENDS 2 DYING TO HOSPITAL

One Has Bullet in Breast, the Other's Skull Crushed, in Providence Fracas

Providence, April 7.—Two men are in a dangerous condition at the Rhode Island Hospital, one with a bullet wound in his breast, the other with his skull beaten in, a third man is held by the police and a fourth is being sought as the result of a fight on Eastern avenue.

Thus far the police have learned nothing of the fight, as the arrested man will not talk.

The two men expected to die are Elentrio Petrone of No. 157 George Waterman road, Johnston, and Vito Marpucci of No. 238 Atwell's avenue, this city. Petrone's breast was penetrated by a bullet, and the other man's skull was crushed. It is believed, when the butt of a revolver crashed down on his head.

The police are detaining Nicola Palocci of No. 140 Cedar street. Police are also looking for two women who called a taxi near the scene of the fight shortly after the trouble started.

BARNEY GOOGLE SEES "UNDER RED ROBE"

He Gets Spark Plug in, Too, for Inside Dope on How Horses Dash Upstream

By BARNEY GOOGLE.

Spark Plug and I confided in each other last night, and I must say that the hoss of mine has more than his share of hoss sense. When I went to the stable I heard Sparky contentedly munching his oats and thinking of the next race against Sassie Susie.

I don't mean to infer that I heard Sparky thinking, but it was almost that heavy. Together with some of my friends I saw "Under the Red Robe," that current movie winner of the Cosmopolitan Productions, now playing at the Park Theatre.

We went to the Park, Sparky and I, and I tried to get a seat for my illustrious mustang. I was told that the days of stalls had passed and that no orchestra chair would be reserved for my racehoss pal. I said to the lady in the box office:

"Aw, go on. Just this once! Let my baby come in and see that part of the picture where those horses run down stream. I'll give my Sparky some great ideas on his next cross-country race, Los Angeles to San Francisco. How much?"

But the lady at the window said: "Nothing doing, Mr. Google."

I protested, and as the lady was a good-looker, I won my point.

After the show I said to Sparky: "Wasn't it great? Of course, and now I am speaking strictly as horse to horse, you wouldn't believe all the wonderful things that John Charles Thomas did as Gil de Berault, and how Robert B. Mantell, that favorite of the theatrical world, portrayed Cardinal Richelieu, but really, Sparky, you missed some of the fine points."

It was a pleasure—and I may add, also the pleasure of Alma Rubens, who was marvelous as Renee in the motion picture classic at the Park—yes, a great pleasure for both of us. When I called Miss Rubens on the telephone, I said:

"On the level, Alma, you were great. If Mantell is there, let me talk to him, too. He did fine.

"Yes, it was the first time I ever saw him on the screen. Just give that gray a little stage experience and he is a comer. Who? Thomas? John Charles Thomas? Yes, sir. Three fine fellows.

GOLD RESERVE IN FRANCE UNTOUCHED

Tulle, France, April 7.—France has replaced the "ammunition" used in the recent battle of the franc and can face the future with confidence," former Finance Minister de Lasteyrie declared in a speech at a banquet given by the Reserve Officers' Association.

"The credits we obtained abroad are entirely reimbursed," he said. "Not one piece of the Bank of France's gold reserve has been used. Our stock of ammunition is entirely reconstituted. We are ready to meet any eventuality and can face the future with confidence."

WOMAN SEIZES KILEY'S ROLL AND RUNS

She and $42 Found in Doctor's Office; Is Declared Guilty in Court

Mary Galnick gave Cambridge street a thrill in the morning shopping hours today when she ran away with William Kiley's "roll."

"Bill" dropped the roll, consisting of $42 in cash and a $10 check. Mary, so eyewitnesses told Patrolman McCarthy, saw Kiley's bundle on the sidewalk. She stooped, grabbed it up quickly and dashed away. Cries from those who saw attracted Kiley's attention.

"Grab her! Stop her! Trip her up! She's got my money," William yelled as he took up the pursuit. Mary disappeared.

Patrolman McCarthy later found her in a doctor's office on Allen street. They found the greenbacks under a carpet in the hallway. Mary told Officer McCarthy her husband was sick, dying, that's why she was running for a doctor.

Justice Sullivan found Mary guilty and allowed her to go on her own recognizance.

Later Kiley and Officer McCarthy found the $10 check torn to bits in a cuspidor in the physician's office. The payee was advised to handle the paper and explain to the payor.

Auto Crash, Arrest

A collision of two automobiles at Charles and Revere streets today, in which both cars were badly smashed, resulted in the appearance in Municipal Court of George W. Tobin of No. 16 Belknap street, Arlington. Tobin, arrested by Patrolman George W. McGrath, was charged with drunkenness and operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. On his request the case was continued by Judge Sullivan until April 17.

AUTO THEFT CHARGE; ONE-YEAR SENTENCE

Arthur DeArmour, twenty, of No. 5 George street, Somerville, hired an automobile on December 30 and has not returned it yet, according to an allegation against him in Brighton Court today.

DeArmour was charged with stealing the machine, hired from Bernard Russell of Allston, and selling it for $125.

He was sentenced to one year in the House of Correction and appealed.

Mothers!! Apply Common Sense

THIS is the era of the prevention of disease and sensible people do not wait until sickness has actually come before remedying the trouble. The crowded hospitals everywhere are sad examples of the results of neglect. Be especially watchful of children. Restlessness, lack of normal appetite and feverishness usually indicate constipation. Stop it that instant with a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and you will have prevented real sickness. Mrs. Ida Williamson of 1637 Pine St., Long Beach, Cal., and Mrs. Lou Brawley of Self, Ark., never have illness in the family because of their prompt use of Syrup Pepsin.

A Great Family Laxative

It may be difficult to decide just what medicine to use out of the many that are offered, but it would not be if you knew the facts. There are laxatives, cathartics, purgatives and physics, and they vary in their reaction on the system. Naturally, the stronger the medicine the more it shocks the system, so wise parents never give anything but a laxative to children. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a mild laxative, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and desirable aromatics, and so appreciated that it is now the largest selling preparation of its kind in the world, over 10 million bottles being used annually. The formula is on every package.

Three Rules of Health

Purchase a bottle of Syrup Pepsin at a drug store and always keep one in the family medicine chest. Give it to anyone from infant to grandparent, for it is safe, and the cost is less than a cent a dose. You can keep a family healthy with just this simple medicine. Give it for constipation, torpid liver, indigestion, biliousness, headaches, colds and other evidence of bowel obstruction. Dr. Caldwell, who was a practicing physician for 47 years and who originated this formula, had three rules of health that he found very effective among his patients and which you can follow with great benefit: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, and the bowels open.

"It is quite within the bounds of possibility to prolong our term of youthfulness by 10 or 20 years. In other words, WE NEED NO LONGER GROW OLD AT 40 or 50 This can be brought about by observing certain hygienic measures AND BY IMPROVING THE FUNCTIONS OF A CERTAIN FEW OF THE GLANDULAR STRUCTURES IN OUR BODY."

-- Dr. Arnold Lorand
IN "OLD AGE DEFERRED"

"We need no longer grow old at 40 or 50!"

Does that remarkable statement by a famous physician mean anything to you? Are you "old" at 40 or 50—or 70? Would you like to prolong the term of youthfulness? Or recapture the charm and regain the vigor of youth, if they have gone out of your life?

If so, this may be the most interesting page you ever read. It will acquaint you with a stupendous scientific drama—an unfinished epic, which, as yet untitled, might be called "the Defeat of Age."

Parts of this drama are being written by European scientists, who tell of achieving amazing rejuvenations of the aged by means of gland transplantations or other forms of surgery. Other parts—more fascinating and important to us—are coming from the pens of scores of Americans—honest average citizens of all ages and in all walks of life—setting forth the writers' personal experiences with a recent medical discovery of European origin and American development.

These writers say the discovery, used easily and inexpensively at home, has invigorated and re-energized them, banished the distressing handicaps of "old age," either "natural" or premature; brought back the vitality and vivacity of the prime of life and replaced weakness and despair by strength and joy. Some, far advanced in years, declare it has made them truly "young" again. Many pronounce it "a fountain of youth." And this discovery, thanks to American enterprise, now is available to every one—at small cost if it pleases; at no cost if it fails.

Some years ago European specialists began reporting gratifying results from the use of a newly discovered vegetable substance, which they were using for its direct and powerful action on the great lower spinal nerve centers. In many instances, the physicians noted, arousing those centers was followed by improved circulation and a sense of renewed vigor and animation, reacting favorably on the entire system as a "rejuvenation."

An American chemist decided there was no reason why this substance could not be adapted to a home treatment, instead of being confined to the private practice of Old World physicians. He knew that thousands—weak, aged, despairing—were in need of such help as that described by the Europeans. Therefore, he set to work to develop a product which could be used at home, safely, easily and at small cost.

Korex compound was the result. Besides the substance referred to above, it contains other ingredients intended to supplement that agent's effects—improve the functioning in general and build up the system.

The history of korex compound contains many chapters of unstinted praise from persons who say korex has rescued them from the misery of nerve weakness, lost or depleted vigor and the effects of premature age. Some users—notably the aged—give the compound credit not only for a renewal of vigor, but for what physicians term the "secondary effects of rejuvenation," such as greater mental activity, restoration of failing memory and marked improvement of the eyesight. Several tell of having laid aside their glasses since being made "young" by the korex method.

You are Not as Old as you Feel, says Science

—but as old as your glands and nerves.

"A man is not as old as he feels or a woman as old as she looks."

This is the opinion of Dr. Eugen Steinach of Vienna, originator of the famous Steinach operation for rejuvenation, as quoted by Corners in his book on the Steinach method.

Dr. Steinach believes we are just as old as our great nerve centers and our ductless glands—in other words, that a man with abundant nerve force and active glands may be "young" at 70, while one lacking in these respects may indeed be "old" at 30. This view is shared by a large faction of progressive scientists, including Kammerer, Schmidt, Voronoff, Benjamin and others.

Dr. Kammerer, an associate of Steinach for years, says "the basic principles of rejuvenation have been discovered," and that it only remains to find the best method of applying them. He says, too, that, in many instances, rejuvenation can be accomplished without an operation. Recent press dispatches quoted one of America's greatest surgeons as saying that we should not find renewed youth "leaping from bough to tree top in the glands of monkeys, but in a bottle on the bath room medicine shelf."

The writers of the letters reprinted here submitted to no "gland operations" and took no "gland extracts." All the benefits of which they tell were derived, they say, from a brief use of the medical discovery already mentioned—the tablet compound known as korex. This compound now is offered to the public on trial under an iron-clad guarantee of "SATISFACTION OR YOUR MONEY BACK."

W. D. LUTTRELL.

"Young" Again at 68, He Says.

A complete rejuvenation at the age of 68—a prompt awakening of glands and nerves and a renewal of youthful vigor—is the return W. D. Luttrell of Lincoln, Neb., says he got from the korex compound.

"Korex is just fine!" he writes. "Since I began using it, I have gained 21 pounds and never felt better in my life. Without any gland operation, my youthful vigor has been restored; and I owe this rejuvenation and re-awakening of glands and nerves to korex compound. I am 68 years old, but don't feel a day over 30. I feel just like a kid and haven't an ache or a pain. There is nothing too good to say for this wonderful remedy. It is the best thing I ever heard of to build up a man."

"I felt new vigor and strength within ten hours after I began taking korex," says W. Adkins, Bel, La.' "Korex tablets make a man out of an old drag," writes C. H. King, Tinsman, Ark. "I am 79 years old, but I felt the effects of them in two days." "Korex compound is all O. K. It took effect on me in 24 hours," says R. A. Leonard, Geneva, O.

THOMAS J. GLASCOCK.

Made as Young and Vigorous at 75 as He Was at 35, He Says.

THREE weeks' use of korex compound made Thomas J. Glascock "young" again, he says, after ailments and feebleness incidental to old age had brought him so low he had prepared for death. Mr. Glascock, formerly well known as a contractor, is 75 years of age. He lives at 1031 Armstrong Avenue, Kansas City, Kan. Of his experience with korex he says:

"I feel like I did at 35 and seem to be getting stronger every day. During my three weeks' use of korex compound, pains and weaknesses of many years' standing disappeared almost magically. Today I am as vigorous and supple as I was in the prime of life. When I began using korex, my memory was virtually gone and I was almost blind. Now my mind is clear and active and I can read the finest print without difficulty."

In order to find out whether the results were lasting, Mr. Glascock waited six months before making his report. On this point he says:

"Every passing day strengthens my conviction that my restoration is not only complete but lasting. I can't express the happiness this great discovery has brought me. It has made me young again."

D. W. Wood of New Orleans, past 60 years of age, says: "Korex compound has brought me back to as good, healthy physical condition as I enjoyed at 35. I am apparently as supple as at 25, and my eyesight is better than for years."

Glands Made Active and Youthful Vigor Renewed

—is the testimony of many korex users.

The following are representative of the favorable reports made on korex compound:

"I have experienced a complete rejuvenation through the use of korex. My glands have been made active, my vital nerve centers awakened and I have been made young again. My muscles are supple, my eyesight clearer and I can do a man's work. I feel as young and vigorous as I did at 30, although I am 84."—J. L. Rowell, Kaw City, Okla. "My glands are active and I have lost that worn-out, no-courage feeling since taking korex."—Julio Aviles, Camp Meade, Md.

"Korex has made me feel like 30, instead of 73. My glands are active, and I don't know I have a nerve in my body."—W. A. Mullis, Charlotte, N. C. "I can truthfully say I feel 25 to 30 years younger since taking korex. I am 66, but feel so young that I take part in the club dances now."—Chas. S. Watkins, Taft, Cal. "Korex moves all troubles and restores all joy and pleasures. I am truly surprised at its power and results."—Herbert Rencher, Lockland, O.

"I want to tell you how pleased I am with my first box of korex. I have been rejuvenated. My glands are made active; lost vigor has been restored. A week ago I was completely played out, but after one day's treatment I realized that I had not lost my activity and youthful vigor. Today I feel 20 years younger. My nerves are refreshed and my energy is back, where it used to be."—Harry G. Thompson, Oklahoma City, Okla.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks — Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a restless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, just take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

OPPOSE STATE BONUS FOR YEOWOMEN

Petition Asking $100 Benefits Fails to Impress House Committee

Members of the House Committee on Ways and Means today appeared to be unfavorably impressed with a petition asking that girls who served in the navy during the war as yeomen F be given the $100 bonus granted by the State.

It was favored by John T. Comerford, legislative agent of the Massachusetts Department of the American Legion, Miss Helen Murray of the Bessie Edwards Post of Dorchester and Miss Margaret Mitchell of Dorchester.

Representative Henry L. Shattuck of Boston, chairman of the committee, reminded the speakers that the girls were exempt from sea duty.

King Albert Has Grip

Brussels, April 7 (A.P.)—A severe attack of the grip which it was announced King Albert was suffering today is causing some anxiety in the royal household.

BANDITS SLAY 2 AMERICANS IN ALBANIA

Murder of Yankees Is Being Investigated by Agents From U. S. Legation

Tirana, Albania, April 7 (A.P.)—The murder of Robert Lee Coleman of San Francisco and George B. De Long of New York on the Albanian Scutari highroad is attributed to highwaymen who infest that mountainous district. The section where the Americans were slain is one of the wildest in Albania.

Two men from the American legation here, Messrs. Stephens and Tyler, have gone to the scene of the crime to make an investigation. They were accompanied by a heavy guard.

Martial law has been declared and extended throughout the country so as to prevent any outbreaks that might be caused by the seizure of any person accused of the crime and aid in dealing with an uprising by any of the mountain tribes which might be ready to take advantage of an act that would weaken the government.

The authorities are taking these severe measures and making a rigid investigation, fearing that the crime will affect seriously the country's international status.

New York, April 7.—George B. De Long of New York and Robert Lewis Coleman of San Francisco, who were waylaid and murdered on an Albanian highway, were on their way to Paris and London after a trip through the Mediterranean, Richard Lounsbery, son of Mrs. De Long, declared today.

Mr. De Long and Mr. Coleman left here January 26 and went as far as Constantinople. Returning, they passed through Bucharest, Athens and other cities and were going through the Balkans on their way to join Mrs. De Long and her son in London April 8.

Mr. De Long, who is a son of Senator De Long of California, and who, up until seven years ago, was a resident of that State, was forty-nine years old and a retired real estate merchant. He was a graduate of Leland Stanford University.

USE DYNAMITE TO RECOVER GIRL'S BODY

Chicopee, April 7.—Dynamite was again resorted to today in an effort to recover the body of fourteen-year-old Sophie Cutsek from the Connecticut River, where it is alleged to have been thrown by Stanley Zalewska, seventeen, last Wednesday, after he had beaten the girl unconscious in the cellar of his home. Many charges were exploded in the area near where the body is supposed to be.

RUMELEY'S SENTENCE IS COMMUTED AGAIN

Washington, April 7 (I.N.S.)—President Coolidge today commuted to one month the jail sentences imposed upon Dr. Edward S. Rumeley, Edward S. Kaufman and Norvin Lindheim, who were convicted under the Federal statute covering trading with the enemy, in connection with their purchase of the New York Evening Mail during the war.

This is the second commutation granted Dr. Rumeley and his associates. Originally sentenced to a year and a day in Federal prison, President Coolidge lopped off this day so as to permit the men to serve in New York instead of Atlanta or Leavenworth.

Today's commutation will allow the men to gain their freedom shortly, as they have already served nearly a month.

To You Who Envy Pretty Teeth

This test shows how folks get them

Here is a delightful ten-day test which will be a revelation. You owe it to yourself and to your home.

Millions have made it. The prettier teeth you see everywhere now show the results.

To the homes of some 50 nations it is bringing a new era in tooth beauty. Learn what it means to you.

That cloudy film

You feel on your teeth a viscous film. That is what clouds teeth, dims its whole lustre. Film is what wrecks them.

No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats film, so much of it clings and stays. Soon it becomes discolored, forming dingy coats. That is how teeth lose their beauty.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

That is why tooth troubles became almost universal, despite the daily cleaning.

New modern ways

Dental science has in late years found two ways to fight that film. One disintegrates the film at all stages of formation. One removes it without harmful scouring.

Clinical tests have proved those methods effective. A new-type tooth paste has been created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent.

Protect the Enamel

Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

No Cost

For a 10-Day Test

Simply mail coupon

All the world over, leading dentists began to urge its use. Now millions of homes have adopted this new method.

Other new effects

Pepsodent does other things which research proved essential. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay. It multiplies the starch digestant in saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth.

So Pepsodent, with every use, gives increased power to those great tooth-protecting agents in the mouth. It brings to people a new conception of what clean teeth mean.

This help is due to every child

Pepsodent means more than added beauty. It means a new and a better protection. Dentists advise that children use it from the time the first tooth appears. Fighting film and starch acids means more than merely brushing teeth.

Learn what it means. Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth become whiter as the film-coats disappear.

Judge by what you see and feel as to what tooth paste is best. Cut out coupon now.

BEST DISTANCE MEN IN WORLD TO RUN

Mike Ryan, track and field coach at Colby College and trainer of the American Olympic team marathon runners, is making preparations for the invasion of Paris next July with a team of long-distance men that he is confident will surpass the athletic world.

Ryan is gathering his forces together and will show them for the first time on Saturday, April 19, the day of the twenty-eighth annual American marathon race under the auspices of the Boston Athletic Association.

Clarence De Marr

This year's long grind will be run from Hopkinton, beyond Ashland, to Boston—a distance of twenty-six miles 385 yards, the official Olympic distance.

The grueling contest will be the final tryout for the American Olympic team.

From the field that finishes six will be chosen and this combination will sail one week later for Paris, accompanied by Ryan.

The race is sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States and is open to amateurs the world over.

HIGH-CLASS ENTRIES FOR HOLIDAY GRIND

Unusual interest throughout the country is manifested in the race this year because of the high-class entry received.

About forty men will make the start, and they comprise the best long-distance runners in America.

Two outstanding stars will compete. They are Clarence H. DeMar of Melrose Hillside, Mass., winner of the 1911, 1922 and 1923 races, and Frank Zuna, of the Millrose Athletic Association of this city, who recently was returned winner in the Baltimore and Detroit races.

While DeMar and Zuna are favorites, Albert Michalson, of the Cygnet Athletic Club of Port Chester, N. Y.; William Kennedy, a clubmate of Michaelson; Nicholas Glannakopulos, of the Millrose Athletic Association, and scores of other veterans and youngsters all have big followings.

All these must be seriously considered, and this means that the race will be stubbornly contested from pistol to tape.

They are now in hard training. Marathon running is not like running a mile or a two-mile race, and a contender must be in good physical condition. The rules will be strictly enforced at the race this year.

EUSTACE AND PESEK IN MAT BATTLE TONIGHT

Allen Eustace, the Kansas Cornstalk, and John Pesek, the "Nebraskan Tiger," leading claimants for the world's heavyweight wrestling title, are waiting for the word that will call them to the centre of the mat in Mechanics Building tonight to wrestle to a positive finish, under American Association rules. These provide that the contest shall be best two falls out of three with the proviso that if the battle extends beyond two hours then a single fall will suffice.

Both men are in perfect shape for the match, according to the statements of their managers and trainers. Each is fully confident of the result, but there must be a winner and a loser, so that one will be keenly disappointed while the other will be equally jubilant over the outcome.

John Pesek

"I learned in my last match with Pesek that I waited too long, but now I know that if I had taken the initiative, as I will this evening, then my chances of winning would have been excellent," said Eustace to the writer. "In my present form, and I can truthfully say that I have never been better, I cannot see how I can be beaten. If I come through as I hope then I will set mail for everybody between the championship and me."

Oddly enough, from a Boston standpoint, Eustace is the favorite to win among the western delegation, many of whom know the merits of both men thoroughly. Still Boston fans will trail with Pesek, on his previous showings on Boston mats.

Eustace, not quite so well known to eastern followers of the game, will be the bigger of the pair, as he will weigh 225 pounds to 195 the "Tiger" will carry. The latter is the more vicious and relentless of the team, but on the other hand Eustace is one of the cleverest and fastest, as well, as easiest moving heavyweights in action today. The masterly manner in which he handed Panama Joe Alvarez, using a bewildering series of holds and combinations, stamped him as a performer of the rarest excellence and one whose skill, power and speed make him a formidable opponent for any man in the game. Eustace is all the more confident of the result because of the outcome of Pesek's match with Mondt recently. This proved that Pesek terror that he is known to be, could be beaten if an opponent took the aggressive and did not permit the "Tiger" to use his relentless attack to the point where Pesek's opponent would be helpless.

The show will start at 8:15 sharp with Frank Dutcher and Bob Johnson of Lowell to a one-fall finish. The main event will then be called and following this will be a one-fall match in which Irish Patsy McCarthy will have it out with Bill Rudy.

TONIGHT'S MAT PROGRAM

Curtain Raiser—Frank Dutcher vs. Bob Johnson, Lowell, one fall finish.

Main Event—Allen Eustace vs. John Pesek, best two falls out of three, to a positive finish.

Closing Bout—Patsy McCarthy vs Bill Rudy, one fall finish.

Referee Cyclone Burns.

First pair called at 8:15 sharp.

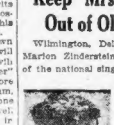
Baby Daughter Will Keep Mrs. Jessup Out of Olympiad

Wilmington, Del., April 7.—Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup, winner of the national singles championship at Boston recently, is unlikely to represent the United States in the Olympic tennis meet.



Mrs. Jessup.

Mrs. Jessup found, upon her return here from Boston, that her nine-month-old daughter missed her greatly. The indoor titleholder is not inclined to sacrifice the comfort of her family to be abroad two months.

Mrs. Jessup demonstrated at Chestnut Hill that she would greatly strengthen the American tennis team in the competition abroad, for she lost only five games to Miss Lillian Scharman, of Brooklyn, in the final contest.

CRIMSON TO CHOOSE BASKETBALL HEAD

Harvard's basketball captain will be chosen today. The likely selection is Dolph Samborski of Westfield. Samborski was an all around star at Westfield High, and last Fall was a back on the Harvard football squad, and is now trying out for catcher on the nine. Carl Rauh, centre, and Bill Smith, forward, both sophomores, have an outside chance for election.

EHMKE PITCHES A ONE HIT GAME

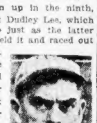
By FRED C. LANE.

Shreveport, La., April 7.—Any doubt that might be harbored about the condition of the Red Sox pitching staff was dispelled when Howard Ehmke pitched the Sox to an 11 to 0 victory over the Shreveport club and in so doing allowed but one hit. This makes the third pitcher on Manager Pohl's hurling staff who has proven his fine condition. Fuhr held Ft. Worth to two hits, Jack Quinn stopped Shreveport in their pening contest, allowing but three bingles, and today Ehmke showed his true form by allowing one questionable hit.

Howard Ehmke

Hal, first man up in the ninth, hit a feat one at Dudley Lee, which took a bad hop just as the latter was about to field it and raced out to centrefield.

Because of the speed of the ball and the peculiar course it took the score keeper judged the same a bingle.



Bob Veach

While Ehmke was holding the locals hitless for eight innings the Red Sox were annihilating two of the Thomas hurlers. Foreman, who stopped the St. Louis Browns, was hauled from the box in the fourth inning with two out shortly after Veach lifted one over the right field wall.

The largest crowd to ever witness an exhibition game was on hand for the Sox victory.

EAGLE COACH MAKES LAST BASEBALL CUT

The final cut in the Boston College squad will take place this week, when Coach Olaf Henriksen will bring the squad to 18 players. One of the four catchers, Ward, O'Neil, O'Brien or Mooney will be dropped and three infielders. The extra infielders are Jap Finnegan, ex-Latin school star, Huck Finnegan, Tom McIntire and Joe Linnahan.

EVERETT AWARDS NET TEAM LETTERS

The members of the Everett High school baseball team who have earned the right to wear the coveted "E" are as follows: Captain Joe Mirley, Captain-elect John DiVenuti, Rogers, Terrio, Convery, Kelley, Hornstein, Lounsbury, O'Hara, Lindblad, Cook, Colby, Fowler and Manager Folis.

NOVICES APPEAR IN BUNKER HILL SHOW

Charlestown will be the mecca for amateur boxing stars tonight. They will gather at Roughan Hall, where [illegible] post [illegible] Council K. of C. will stage a five-class tournament.

While one of the largest entry lists of the year, the committee in charge of the event are sure that it will prove the biggest tourney of the present successful season.

Novice boxers will compete in three classes and it is expected that many new stars will be brought out. The classes for the novices including 112, 126 and heavyweight and all the classes are well filled.

Two, open classes also are on the program. They will be 147 pounds and 160 pounds. Many boys from the Bunker Hill district are entered in each class. Tickets for the tournament can be procured at the hall tonight.

LEWIS DEFENDS TITLE ON MAT TOMORROW

Philadelphia, April 7. — Ed "Strangler" Lewis, world's wrestling champion, is matched to take on Renato Gardini, Italian grappling king, tomorrow night at the Adelphi. A check of $16,000 has been put up to guarantee the bout. More than this, the go will be the first to be held under the auspices of the State Athletic Commission where a title is at stake.

GOLDSTEIN BATTLES WOLGAST TONIGHT

Toledo, April 7.—One of the biggest crowds that has attended a bout here in years is expected to turn out for the Abe Goldstein-Bobby Wolgast twelve-round bout here tonight. The demand for tickets is great, and a larger crowd than witnessed the Jimmy Wilde-Frankie Mason championship contest is assured.

BLUE GRASS LEAGUE FOUR-CLUB CIRCUIT

Paris, Ky., April 7.—Reorganization of the Blue Grass League as a 4-club circuit, adoption of an eighty-four-game schedule and re-entrance of Lexington into the organization was voted upon by the league here. Representatives of Cynthiana, Winchester, Paris and Lexington effected the reorganization. Lexington also is to be represented this year in the Kentucky-Indiana-Ohio League.

LARGE FIELD IN CATHEDRAL TEN-MILE

On Saturday afternoon next, the folks of the South End and Dorchester will see a flock of lightly clad athletes romping through the streets in the Fourteenth Annual 10-mile road race, of the Cathedral M. C. A.

Jimmy Hennigan

This should be the most interesting race ever held by the South End organization. Many of the best distance runners in this section have already sent in their names to Frank J. Keating, who is in charge of the event.

Along with the two Hennigan brothers, Jimmie and Tom, is Wallace Young, the new sensational 10 mile runner, who defeated Jimmie Hennigan from scratch in the last Brockton Fair marathon event.

These two lads will again start from scratch, and should put plenty of competition into the run. Among the other headliners to send in their entries are George and Edgar McAlpine, father and son, T. Collins of the Cathedral Y. M. C. A., E. F. Stevens, John McIver, William Mahoney, Robert Craib, Fred Brown, Angus O'Neill who finished second last year, James Cleary and James Mullane. The latter finished ninth in the recent Detroit marathon.

Entries close tomorrow with Frank J. Keating, No. 75 Union Park street, Boston.

LYNN PLAYER GOES TO CHATTANOOGA

Johnny Ring, former infielder of the Corner Stars of Lynn, has been turned over to the Chattanooga club by Atlanta by the waiver route, according to reports from the South.

Harvard Game Off

The baseball game scheduled between Harvard varsity and Connecticut Aggies for Soldiers Field this afternoon was called off on account of rain.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what cold really is) and stimulates circulation.

It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

DENCIO BATTLES BUFF; JACK DELANEY MEETS ROBINSON

HAMBONE TACKLES WOLF

By JACK CONWAY

Boston boxing fans will be as busy this week as the proverbial bill collector.

There are four major league shows billed for Mechanics Building. All of which should mean plenty of action for the fans and a very successful week for the dear old landlords.

Here is the offering:

Tuesday—Young Denice, Philippines, vs. Johnny Buff, former world's bantamweight champion, ten rounds, Armory A. A.

Johnny Buff

Thursday—Jack Delaney, conqueror of Paul Berlenbach and the pride of Bridgeport, vs. George Robinson, Cambridge, ten rounds, Suffolk A. A.

Friday—Hambone Kelly, South Boston kayo king, vs. Wolf Larsen, Boston, ten rounds, Commercial A. C.

Saturday—Jack Malone, St. Paul, vs. Augie Ratner, New York, ten rounds, Faneuil A. C.

A rather heavy program.

Fireworks and TNT could not give more action.

DENCIO AND BUFF SHOULDGIVE ACTION.

Young Dencio, brilliant Philippine flyweight, and Johnny Buff, former world's bantamweight champion, should furnish fistic fireworks when they clash in the feature ten-round bout at the Armory A. A.'s show at Mechanics Building tomorrow night.

Dencio has been working out in Boston for more than a week and has made a big hit with those who have seen him in action. He is a fast, colorful battler like Pancho Villa, his countryman who refused to meet him in the ring. Like Villa, Dencio bobs around the ring with amazing speed. He hits from all angles and with great success.

If Dencio wins over Buff, he says he will be prepared to tackle Frankie Genaro, American flyweight champion, in a Boston ring. Genaro, like Dencio, has been avoided by Villa.

Buff, aggressive, two-fisted fighting man, will give Dencio a severe ring test. Buff punches with both hands and with crushing effect. He is what is known as a "club" fighter, which means he pleases the crowd.

BUFF MADE HIT ON THE PACIFIC COAST

The former bantamweight king recently returned from the Pacific Coast, where he proved a riot in the four-round game. Buff won the bantamweight championship by conquering Pete Herman. He later lost his laurels to Joe Lynch.

Buff plans to carry the fight to Dencio. He says this is the best way to offset a speedy man like the Filipino.

As Dencio, like Buff, delights in swapping blows with an opponent in the centre of the ring, the fans should witness all kinds of thrills.

Bobby Ruttenburg, New York flyweight, and Charley Baxter of Pawtucket will swap blows in the semi-final of ten frames. These boxers are also flyweights.

There will also be two eights in which bantams will feature. Matty Cordis of Lynn will tackle Benny Nelson of Lowell, while Young Corbosa of Peabody will have Jackie Williams of Chicago as an opponent.

JACK DELANEY GREATEST OF PUNCHERS BARRING DEMPSEY

Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, who clashes with George Robinson, great negro middleweight, in the feature bout of ten rounds at the Suffolk A. A.'s show at Mechanics Building on Thursday night, is the greatest puncher the middleweight division has known since the days of Stanley Ketchel. He wallops equally well with both hands.

Paul Berlenbach had won twenty-three straight bouts by knockouts up to the time he clashed with Delaney. In the second round, it appeared as though Berlenbach was going to add Delaney to his list of kayo victims. Jack was badly shaken up by a stiff punch like Dempsey was when he was socked by Firpo in the first session of their contest.

Delaney will now make an effort to stop Robinson. The latter has proved punch proof. Furthermore, he has always been a big winner in tussles with headliners. His own short, sharp right hook to the jaw has wrecked the hopes of a flock of high-class fighters. Johnny Wilson, as middleweight champion, was knocked down four times in contests with Robinson.

The Cambridge negro laughs at Delaney's claims he will count with a kayo.

"If there is a knockout scored, I shall be the one to put the big punch over," said Robinson.

Delaney and Robinson will be surrounded by a de luxe preliminary card. In the semi-final of eight rounds, Felix King of Manchester, N. H. will meet Jimmy Armato of White of New York. Eddie Williams of East Boston will oppose Jimmy Farren of the same section in another eight, while the opening eight-rounder will feature Dinny Glynn of Roxbury and Terry McManus of the same district.

HAMBONE AND LARSEN WILL GIVE PUNCHING EXHIBITION

Two of the best of our noble punchers will be seen in action when Hambone Kelly takes on Wolf Larsen at the Commercial Club's show on Friday night. This bout was originally billed for last December, but was postponed when Hambone suffered an injury to his shoulder while training.

Larsen later took on Ad Stone and, although defeated, made a creditable showing. The Wolf was then advised to be operated on for appendicitis. This will be Larsen's first bout since his operation. He says he will show as well as ever and that he will outpunch Hambone. The latter has been training for a couple of weeks, and there won't be any question about his being passed by the physician of the Boxing Commission. Johnny McGrath's battles is once more fit.

JACK MALONE TO TAKE ON AUGIE RATNER

The inimitable Jock Malone will parade back to town for a ten-round bout with Augie Ratner of New York at the Faneuil Club's show on Saturday night. Ratner has held Malone to a draw, while he lost a questionable decision to Jock in this city. On that occasion Tommy Welsh told this writer Malone was not in condition. Perhaps Tommy was letting Malone down easy.

As Malone recently knocked out Roland Todd in ten rounds, he is going at the top of his game and will be in a position to offer an alibi if defeated. As Malone has never lost a bout in Boston, he will naturally rule a favorite over Ratner.

FILIPINO FLASH

Young Dencio, who claims to be even better than Pancho Villa, will get his first local test here tomorrow with Johnny Buff.

STASIAK IS TO OPEN FIRE ON STRANGLER

When Ed Strangler Lewis gets to Boston this week for his finish match at the Grand Opera House with Peter Kosloff he will find plenty of trouble ahead for himself.

Kosloff is one tough bird and as he is ready for this match, Stanley Stasiak Lewis will have to show just what he has if he expects to defeat the big Russian. In addition to the match it is an assured fact that Stasiak will have a lot of unkind things to say to the champion.

He has been on the champion's trail for two years but is unable to get even the promise of a match. With both men on the ground something of a definite nature is sure to take place.

Of equal interest on the card is the finish match between Stanley Stasiak and Ivan Linow, the Russian Lion. Linow laughed when told that Stasiak wanted a match with Lewis.

"By that I don't mean that the big Pole isn't good enough to wrestle Lewis, but when I get through with the Pole he won't want to wrestle anybody for the next six months.

"I have wanted a match with Lewis myself for the last two years. Well, I can't get it, so now that I am matched up with Stasiak I will take it out on him. It is a well established fact that Russians can beat Poles and say for me that Stasiak is in for one grand trimming."

A one-fall match between Jack Albright and Frank Dutcher will precede the double star card.

Harold Ward

WARD WILL BE NEW EAGLE CATCHER

Coach Henriksen will make the last pruning of the Eagle baseball squad this week when his threat-ened cut to eighteen men will go into execution. Last week's cut brought the number to twenty-two, and there are four more to go.

Ward, who played sensational football for B. C. for the last three years, is the logical choice for catcher. He is the only member of the nine who is not a veteran, but his perfection behind the bat, and his dependability with the willow mark him as one of the mighty links that will go into the welding of the Eagle's chain of victories.

"Plaster" is a big boy, but can heave the ball with a driving force to second from a crouching position, a feat in which Eddie Phillips was particularly adept. The fact that he can slug on a par with Wilson, Darling and Whelan, assures him that he will be among the first on the batting order.

Second base is still open, although Brosnan seems to have a fairly strong claim to it. Herb Finnegan and Ed Malley are still striving to oust him from the honor of holding down the assignment during the practice. The other positions will be the same as last year, with the exception of Captain Tommy Phillips, who will play in right field.

The Boston College squad will not be able to get out onto Alumni Field at Newton-ville for the time being. This will give the players less than a week of home-ground practice before the opener with Northeastern.

ARENA WILL BE MECCA OF BOWLERS TONIGHT

When Mayor James M. Curley steps to the foul line and bowls a beautiful mahogany ball at 7:45 tonight, the world's championship candle pin bowling tournament will be under way at the Arena. Twelve nights of bowling by teams representing universities, churches, automobile companies, fraternal orders, bankers and brokers, telephone company, newspapers, manufacturers, mercantile houses and clubs.

Mayor Curley

With 474 five-man teams and altogether approximately 2,400 bowlers in the tournament, there will be plenty of action at the Arena for the next two weeks. The Arena is in readiness for the champion-ship event. Yesterday hundreds of people visited the rink to see it dressed in its new and picturesque garb. The fourteen alleys, the last word in perfection, were admired by everybody.

The Midway or Fakirs' Row in the main lobby of the Arena and also surrounding the dance floor caught the attention of bowling fans.

There will be twenty-eight five man teams in action every night, divided into two divisions.

The following teams will bowl in the first division tonight, starting promptly at 8 o'clock: United Team, Everett; Walker Memorial, Cambridge; James Shea Post, No. 196, American Legion, Boston; Quincy Post, No. 95, American Legion; Earl Wendell Post, No. 72, American Legion; Dedham Post, No. 18, American Legion; Milton Post, No. 114, American Legion; Glenville, Allston; Wellesley Post, No. 72; Cunnigham Gymnasium, East Milton; Arlington Ladies; K. of C. Ladies, Lynn; Wollaston Yacht Club, and South Boston Yacht Club.

The other fourteen teams which will start bowling at 10 o'clock follow: Alley Mechanics, Boston; Norcross Associates, South Boston; College Circle, Somerville; Webster Alleys No. 2, Roxbury; Carnival, Waltham; Miller's Stars, Revere; Harry Gruber Terminal Alleys, Boston; Charlestown Business Men's League; Trimount's, South Boston; Mattapan and Codman Square All-Stars, Boston; New Old Colony, Boston; Crawford Alleys, Boston; Glendale Everett and Maverick, Jr., East Boston.

BRAVES START SECOND SHERMAN'S MARCH

By NICK FLATLEY

Albany, Ga., April 7.—The touring Braves opened a parade through Georgia here today, assaulting the Reading Internationals, as sort of preparatory step to the northern trial with the Washington Senators. The Bancrofts have been beaten twice by the Griffs, so have a lot to do if they want to get an even break in this annual Spring series.

The two teams meet tomorrow at Macon, play there, jump to Griffin for a game, then put on another at Atlanta. That settles Georgia and the pair trickle to Spartanburg, S. C., Friday. The next day and Sunday they appear at Washington in two of the most fruitful of all Spring engagements.

The residents of the capital have a habit of turning out en mass for the opening of the season, and all the citizens who aren't being pursued by the Teapot Dome sleuths will be present. The Braves lost both dates a year ago on account of rain and snow, so they should have some good weather coming.

Mickey O'Neil

The team is in very good shape, not a single regular being at all incapacitated except Rube Marquard, whose strained back is out of the wraps again. He will spend a day at his Baltimore home, and join the club in Washington.

He can work some of the capital games if He's needed. During the course of the Spring we have said a few nice things about Cotton Tierney, who is second baseing for the Bancrofts. That young man deserves a lot of praise. He has been a big help in the remodelled infield, and Boston fans will make him quite a hero before the season is very aged.

Mgr. Bancroft

Cotton likes his job, too; is tickled to death with it. Here's how he feels about the situation: "I never was on a club that I liked to play for as well as the Braves. Nobody expects us to win pennants, but everybody is hustling and happy, and trying to get somewhere.

"The team has the finest spirit that I ever bumped into in quite a few years in professional baseball, and if I don't come through it won't be my fault. I'm for Boston and Barnes from soup to nuts."

All the players do feel like Mr. Tierney's last sentence. Barnes is a popular manager, and as has been commented, as will the car marks of a mighty good one.

Bang-Up Bill of Amateur Bouts for Dilboys

Plenty of action is promised the followers of the amateur mitt wielders who journey to Somerville Thursday evening to witness the regular monthly boxing tournament staged under the auspices of Isher Post, V. F. W.

Gene Driscoll

The committee has been working hard to make this tournament the banner one of the season, and from the outline of the entries being received, indications point to the cream of the following classes putting in an appearance, viz., 112, 126, 135, 147 and heavyweights.

With the possibility of Joe Lynch of Fall River, who has yet to meet defeat within the ropes strutting sporting in the 112 pound class, together with Val Ferrandez, plenty of action is assured. Al Mello of Lowell and Al Balm of Lawrence will undoubtedly come together in the 147-pound class.

FIRST GAME FOR TUFTS NEXT SATURDAY

Fred Lake's Tufts college ball tossers will swing into action on next Saturday afternoon when they entertain the Northeastern nine at Tufts Oval, Medford. Coach Lake will make the first cut in his squad this afternoon if weather permits him to hold an outdoor practice session.

Carl Etelman

Doc Hunter, ace of the Tufts varsity pitching staff, will start on the slab against the engineers. Last season Hunter turned back Northeastern by some brilliant twirling and he knows of no reason why he can't do it again.

"Dick" Bagley, former freshman star, will cover the backstop assignment. He batted well above the .300 mark last season. Coach Lake believes that Bagley will fill the shoes of Frank Roche who was lost by graduation.

With this combination working at its best the Brown and Blue nine should rank high in the local collegiate baseball standing. Hunter will be depended upon in the big games that Tufts is scheduled to play, such as Holy Cross, Boston College and Harvard.

"Hall" McDonald and "Allie" Colleri are staging a merry battle for the first base assignment. It is expected that Colleri will win the berth because of his capable fielding.

As matters stand now Coach Lake has no second baseman, but he will try to find one this week at the outdoor workouts. Tom Glennon, who was Tubber White's understudy last season, is groomed for the short stop position.

Roger Atherton is slated to start at third base. Atherton took part in many games last season and he should be one of the biggest assets in the Jumbo field.

Wills Signs Up for Outdoor Battle With Madden

New York, April 7.—Articles of agreement will be signed today by Harry Wills and Bartley Madden for their fifteen round bout at the Queensboro Stadium some time during the outdoor season. Announcement to this effect was made by Paddy Mullins, manager of Wills.

SEEBACK LEADS IN BILLIARD TOURNEY

Charles Seeback is the leader in the New England pocket billiard championship being played at the State Theatre Club. He is undefeated to the present time. "Del" Lauzon of Lynn and Perry Saunders of this city rest in second place, each having lost one game. The tournament will be completed in about ten days. Play will be resumed this evening.

DRIVER IN AUTO RACE IS KILLED

"PETER THE GREAT" IS STRONG PICTURE

Fresh from foreign shores, where the directors are addicted to screening heavier orders of entertainment than here in the States, "Peter the Great," a romance of the famed Czar in the ancient days before Communionism and the dread Cheka held sway in Russia, is being shown at the Fenway theatre.

Heralded as the best foreign importation since that film, "Peter the Great" lives up to the claim. The romantic action woven around Peter's love for Catherine, daughter of the regiment, is a web of sincerity, and the historical episodes form a strong background.

The cast is replete with stars of the foreign film firmament, including in addition to Emil Jannings, the lead, Dagny Servess as Catherine.

"Daughters of Today" at Gordon's Olympia Is Speedy Entertainment

By FAY KING

"If you are a student of Flapperology, "Daughters of Today," now showing at Gordon's Olympia Theatre, will no doubt interest, amuse and enlighten you.

The entire plot concerns flappers!

Where are tall flappers, short flappers, blond flappers and brunette flappers, but all of them are flirty, flippant and fidgety flappers!

FAST YOUNG FILLIES.

The term flapper was first coined in merry England and meant girls at that gawky age, but over here the term has come to mean fresh, fast young frills who sip from pocket flasks and do anything on a dare.

Those are the kind of flappers you'll see in "Daughters of Today." The title of this picture is too inclusive. It may picture SOME daughters of today but certainly not ALL daughters.

Just because we no longer wear hoop skirts and silk mitts, is no sign our cry from the cradle is "cocktails for children" as one subtitle says.

"Daughters of Today" centers upon a certain set of rich young roughnecks, who rush from one party to another, shimmy incessantly, smoke cigarettes and drink.

The two leading flappers are Lois and Mabel.

Lois flaps defiantly because her father gives her heaps of money and little attention. When she met him out stepping with his own flapperish sweetie one night that sets her off at a great pace!

Mabel flaps because her parents are too old-fashioned. Her father burns her dating slippers when she is getting ready to leave for college. He can't see anything wholesome in pleasure.

RICH IDLERS.

Naturally such unsympathetic restraint would inspire undue interest in things denied, and, of course, little Mabel gets in with the very fastest sort of rich idlers, instead of just a nice, jolly, wholesome crowd.

Things run out badly for her, which helps the plot along!

Mabel's roommate at college is another extreme. She's the last word in a booky, nibbling, horn-rimmed prude, and for that reason her objections to Mabel's friends and jazz parties don't mean as much as if they came from another girl just as attractive and desirable as Mabel, but more discriminating.

Zasu Pitts makes this character very comical and even lovable at times, and she should by all means be in the picture but not as the comparative value!

OLD-FASHIONED MOTHER.

Why must good sense and decency always be pictured in extreme plainness and outlandish clothes?

Can't a mother be a good influence without wearing the kind of bonnet no one ever sees now?

Of course Mabel's old-fashioned mother must arrive duly bonneted and bundled, right in the midst of a party and murder.

She suspects nothing!

While she gives Mabel her medicine in one room, the police give the rest of the bunch their medicine in the next room.

But mother is delightfully deceived that the pajama party is amateur theatricals and the detective is a professor, and before she leaves she has them all reformed with her homemade jam and hand-picked posies!

However, you'll probably enjoy "Daughters of To-day" very much.

Werner Janssen provides some delightful jazz music!

How about your cake of
LIFEBUOY HEALTH SOAP
your grocer will exchange for your coupon?

WALES TO LEAVE FOR SOUTH AFRICA MAY 2

London, April 7.—Official announcement is made that the Prince of Wales will sail from Southampton May 2 for his tour of South Africa. The Prince is scheduled to arrive at Cape Town May 19. He will spend three weeks in the Cape province and will then visit Orange Free State, Basutoland, Natal, Swaziland, Rhodesia and Bechuanaland, sailing homeward from Cape Town on August 1.

RAILMEN IN ATTACK ON HOWELL PLAN

Washington, April 7.—The proposed Howell amendment to the transportation act was termed "the Plumb plan in disguise," in a statement today by a delegation representing western system associations of shopmen here to present their views to the Cousens subcommittee of the Senate Interstate Commerce committee.

They declared the amendment, if passed, would "cause another nation wide railroad strike inside of two years." The committee disputed the position of the standard rail unions that the amendment provides representation of employes "on a majority basis" and denounced it as denying representation to numerous members of railroad shop associations and other independent railroad associations.

Next door to a Drug Store—but keeps REM on hand at home too

Mr. Isaac Cohn, 5628 Dix Ave., Detroit, had an experience with REM last winter that made him decide to have it in the house all the time, even though his next door neighbor is a druggist.

He had a cough that kept him from sleeping and made life miserable. He had used lots of medicines for it, but it wasn't until he tried REM that he got relief. His wife used it with the same good result. And so they mean to stop coughs at the start hereafter.

"Spring and Fall, I often get a bronchial cough," says Mr. Cohn, "that keeps me feeling mighty sick as long as it lasts. Day and night I cough and my throat gets rougher and rougher.

"I've used lots of different kinds of medicine for it, but REM helped me this year more than anything had. I saw about it in the papers and stopped in next door at the Dixie Drug Store and got a bottle.

"I got relief right away. I took four bottles and it relieved me wonderful. The soreness and pain were soon gone and I felt different altogether. I could sleep again.

"My wife used it, too, and it stopped a cough she had not long ago."

It speaks well for a remedy when it quiets a cough quickly.

One of the reasons REM so often does so is because of a special ingredient, (too expensive for old-style slower-acting cough syrups). Clinging to your throat as you swallow, it quickly soothes the sore, inflamed throat tissues.

REM is pleasant to take. And it contains no Opiates.

You will find REM at your drug store, in the blue package with the round orange label.

And you can have your money back if REM doesn't help you. Surely fair enough.

MISS CORLISS PALMER

New York April 7 (INS)—Lois Laurens at Jo-Keaths at Lake Brewster and his prize beauty Miss Palmer, are laughing merrily at the suit brought by Brewster's wife for $200,000 charging that the pretty Corliss had stolen Brewster's love.

"Try and get it," they said between titters.

They have laughed at every more or less fulfillment of their happiness, and now they consider Mrs. Brewster's demand is just another laughing matter—a little thing one would gather from their attitude, for money is so trivial compared to the love they have shouted from the house top of their Morristown mansion.

"WON'T GET A CENT."

"She won't get a cent," Brewster declared. "We have decided to say nothing further about our personal affairs," and that was the end of quotations for public consumption.

Probably this decision to say no more about their private affairs was inspired by legal advice. Mrs. Brewster, during the two years since 1922, when Mrs. Brewster first husband and Corliss have been bought and sold on the Painting the accepted conventionalities has remained silent.

Her attorney said he would bring the alienation suit to a speedy trial and that then Mrs. Brewster would have many things to say which have been suppressed since her millionaire husband left her to take up his abode under the same roof with the girl of his dreams.

WHAT CAN SHE TELL?

Everyone who has been following the thrilling love drama is wondering what Mrs. Brewster can tell that has not already been spread across the public press.

She can relate a history of the thrilling affair in which the publisher and the Southern cigar counter girl, but that has been told and told again since December 1922, when Mrs. Brewster first

Sen. Walsh Denounces Prison Made Shoes

ECONOMIC WRONG, HE ASSERTS

Suggests Convicts Be Given Some Other Form of Employment

By BERT FORD

United States Senator David I. Walsh is opposed to the manufacture of army and navy shoes by inmates of the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas, as provided by recent passage of the general deficiency bill. He joined opponents at the committee hearing before the measure was adopted by the Senate.

"Of course," said Senator Walsh, "we want to see prisoners employed, and they should be employed, they should not be allowed to waste their time, but we should not employ them to the detriment of any industry, and especially an industry of this character, and we should not employ them in making shoes for such an important branch of the government service as the Army and Navy.

"I want to say that the shoe industry is probably the very best industry in this country, from the standpoint of working conditions. It is the one big industry that has kept free from forming itself into a trust or monopoly. It is an industry which has never asked a dollar of protection from the national government. Every dollar which goes to the employees and to other interests in this country. Now, much of it

SUGGEST SUBSTITUTE

"Yet we are proceeding to take away from that industry and are asking some thousands of men and women—whatever the number may be—working in the shoe industry, to give up the very best wages and to go into some different trade.

"Now if you want to have all prison products sold, let us [illegible] I am one of those who picks up Mr. Gompers' views. He would be willing to have them [illegible] and I'm sure I would be quite the reverse of what they are in the shoe industry.

"I was much impressed the first time I went into [illegible] when I visited the manufacturing establishments of Massachusetts and [illegible] and I was here in Washington a dollar a year man—sewing, his whole thought and his whole time to the question of how to build up a shoe that would least injure the feet of the troops and that would be most durable and most suitable to their purposes."

SHOE CENTRES PROSPEROUS.

"In the shoe community I found the air of prosperity. I found well-dressed people. I found attractive home conditions. In the textile industry commonly I found suffering and the pinch of poverty.

"During the war some of the great shoe plants worked on a 24-hour basis every hour meeting [illegible] of the war period devising means always to perfect the making of shoes for the army. One of the most noted manufacturers of Massachusetts conferred with me repeatedly and was here in Washington a dollar a year man—sewing his whole thought and his whole time to the question of how to build up a shoe that would least injure the feet of the troops and that would be most durable and most suitable to their purposes."

DRIVERLESS TRUCK WRECKS STORE

Guided, so it seemed to hundreds of Washington street pedestrians, by the hands of a "phantom chauffeur," a heavy commercial automobile truck started mysteriously when parked near the Ames building today, traversed a perfectly straight path toward Adams square described a neat semi-circle about the Sam Adams monument and appeared to be headed for Charlestown.

Then the crash came.

Into a sidewalk showcase, were showered with plate glass, tin pans, shaved ice, bricks, mortar and pieces of wood in the sea food emporium at 214 Dock square. Then the truck veered from its path, bumped over the sidewalk and crashed into the building.

MARION DAVIES TALKS ACROSS ATLANTIC

Broadcasts Speech in Connection With Opening of 'Yolanda' in London Tonight

By HAYDEN TALBOT

London, April 7 (Universal) Wireless). The thousands of admirers of Marion Davies in London are assuming tonight a proprietary interest in the New Oxford Theatre where she is seen in "Yolanda."

Vivid memories of her personal charm in "When Knighthood Was in Flower" and "Little Old New York," are uppermost in the minds of English film fans assembling at the lavish entertainment when and where she makes her debut on the screen.

The fact that Miss Davies might be added to her international fame by becoming the first screen star to speak transoceanically in her well known generally by the British public.

"Hello, thank you and a good bye.

These three expressions will be the first words ever heard across the Atlantic Ocean by a woman enunciated distinctly and clearly by an actress at an early hour in the evening. Lord Ingelin Hall in behalf of the corporation of the British broadcasting company.

It was the voice of Miss Davies speaking from the Wanamaker Auditorium in New York. Owing to atmospheric conditions the greater part of Miss Davies' speech was inintelligible, although the modulations of her voice registered more effectively than that of the announcer.

WJZ ANNOUNCER WEDS ORGANIST

New York, April 7—A romance of the air which has been budding for months burst into full bloom when Milton B. Cross, announcer at broadcasting station WJZ in Aeolian Hall, Forty-second street, and Miss Lillian Eligood Fowler, organist at Chelsea Presbyterian Church, were married in St. Paul's chapel Broadway and Vesey street. The Rev. Joseph P. McComas, D.D. officiated.

State Prison Band to Give Concert Over the Radio

Massachusetts' convict band is to be heard outside the walls of Charlestown State Prison for the first time during Music Week, May 4 to 10.

Arrangements are being completed to have the band give one and possibly two concerts which will be broadcast over the radio direct from the prison.

The band is one of the finest in the State. It is composed entirely of convicts and numbers among its members many high-grade musicians.

The band has been maintained at the State Prison for many years.

VARIOCOUPLER OF NEW LOW LOSS DESIGN

May Be Made at Home and Combines Selectivity and Efficiency

A variocoupler which combines selectivity and efficiency with compactness may be made at home by the fan. Its small size makes it particularly adaptable to portable sets.

As will be seen in Fig. 1, the coils are wound around in a new form. By using this method of winding one can concentrate the electric field of each coil that a slight variation of coupling will throw one station out and another in. Therefore this coupler will do a great deal to eliminate some of the interference that is now so prevalent in certain sections.

In Fig. 1 is shown the form of the two coils that are used for both primary and secondary. There are no taps on either coil and it is not advisable to attempt them. Condensers should be used to tune both primary and secondary. The values of the coils given in this article are for broadcast reception only, but it is simple to figure out the correct values for any other wave band.

FORM OF FIBER.

The form on which the coils are wound is made of one-eighth inch fiber. Two discs three inches in diameter are cut from a piece of fiber. A quarter inch hole is drilled in the centre of each piece for the shaft to pass through. The starting and finishing holes are shown in the figure and should be drilled just large enough to allow No. 24 single cotton covered wire to pass through tightly.

The winding of these coils is the most difficult part of the construction. To wind them one pushes the end of a one half pound spool of No. 24 single cotton wire through the holes marked start. Then five turns are wound around the circular form. These turns are wound so that the first is near the centre hole and the second is away from the hole. In other words one is winding away from the hole.

HOW COIL IS WOUND

When five turns are wound on the next five the coil is a series of five turns, and is wound in the same manner, only swung farther around the circle. The second five overlaps the first in the centre and at the outer edge of the first set. This method of winding is carried on until the coil is wound up to the point that is shown in the drawing given in Fig. 1.

The second coil for the coupler is wound in the same manner as the first one. Both coils should receive a good coat of collodion in order that they may be permanent and that the wire be fixed so that it cannot slip when in use.

The mounting of the coupler is given in Fig. 2. The detailed dimensions and picture drawing eliminate the necessity of describing just how this is done. The mounting is made of strips less than three quarters of an inch wide. The mounting belts are preferably flat head brass bolts that have been nickel plated. These bolts may be either 6-32 or 8-32. The smaller is the better.

NEWSBOYS PROTEST TAX ON RADIO PARTS

A protest against the proposed tax on radio apparatus has been wired to Senator Lodge by Massachusetts newsboys. The protest is especially against the feature of the bill which concerns the parts of homemade sets, rather than against the tax on manufactured sets.

The telegram to Senator Lodge reads:

"In behalf of 5,000 Massachusetts newsboys I am directed to file through you a protest against any tax on radio parts. Considering the extraordinary part the boys of this city played in the development of radio, the government is not justified in adding any expense to the millions of American boys assembling sets from parts."

JAP CLAIMS DX RECEIVING RECORD

Hears Speech at Tokio Broadcasted From Station at Newark

Tokio April 7 (Universal)—The radio record of the world was believed to have been broken here when Hiroshi Ando, famous Japanese radio engineer, listened clearly to a speech made in Esperanto by James Denson Sayers broadcasted from Newark, N. J. at 8:15 o'clock Sunday morning, Tokio time. This corresponds to 6:15 o'clock Saturday night, Newark time.

According to Ando, the speech was broadcast from Station WOR, belonging to a Newark department store. Ando had been listening since five o'clock in the morning. The first sound he heard was the faint outline of a musical number. Then followed a series of radio signals and finally the speech.

Radio Queries

I am enclosing a list of parts from which I put in a neutrodyne, and also the dial readings for the various stations I get, but now without changing my set in the least, I can't get anything but KDKA and WHZ. When I do get a station, it comes in loud enough to be heard all over the room with the ear phones.

D. C. S.

The difference in your dial readings for the various stations shows that something is wrong with either one of the condensers or one of the dials. The readings of the two dials should be not over four or five degrees different. If you get KDKA with such good volume, it would seem to indicate that there was nothing the matter with the set, and your inability to pick up other stations may be a matter of tuning.

1—Will stranded bare copper wire give as good results on the Signal Corps antenna if the roads are parallel? Can you suggest anyway beside parallel? 2—What is the best method to put on the leads? 3—What is the best type of glass to use on a small antenna?

1—It will weaved, so that the rope would not absorb moisture, that would be all right. 2—No. The best way is to use insulated wire. 3—This is difficult to say. Galena still remains popular and the various semi-fixed crystals work well.

J—Yes.

I use an unreflexed Acme audion and can receive with two or three UV201 in all the sockets. For over two months I have had a terrific crackling and interrupted noises. I—What do I do for this? Should I change my amplifying units, A. F. and R. F. or just in the A. F.? W. E. H.

1—Defective grid leak or wiring and break open in the wiring, which might be a broken phone cord. 2—A C battery in the A. F. stages will increase volume, lessen distortion and save on B batteries if you also increase the B battery proportionately at the same time. The exact amount must be found by test.

When I turn in the rheostat half way on the super, I can cut in the station and the set also oscillates. What do you mean by putting a .001 mfd. condenser on my B battery? I am using an 201A in the R. F. socket, a 200 for detector and a 201a and a 201 in the amplifier. I have put on the last tube. It makes an awful lot of noise and does not make the signal any louder.

1—Connect one side to the lead from the primary of the second coupling transformer to the 90 volt B and the other side to the positive filament at the tube side of the rheostat. This is just like C3 in the diagram except for the capacity and the fact that C3 is connected to the negative filament thus bringing both A and B batteries. 2—Your storage battery is probably not large enough to give the full extra ampere that the 201 tube requires.

My American super has been a wonder and I have not had a thing better in this entire time about two weeks ago when I started to tune in I could not get a thing. I found that pushing a wedge under the lower side of the first condenser, thus throwing the plates of the condenser closer together, things came in fine, until I removed the wedge when everything stopped. W. M. S.

HEROINES OF HISTORY

By Mark Sullivan

IN 1715, the Earl of Nithdale was a prisoner in the Tower of London. He was under sentence of death for . . . ing . . . but James the Old Pretender to the throne.

His wife, Lady Nithdale, was frantic when she heard this news and left her home in Scotland, traveling through a severe storm and went to London.

Here she met with a disappointment, for the governor of the Tower of London would not allow her to see her husband on the condition that she, too, would become a prisoner. For this was a common practice in those days.

Knowing full well that as a prisoner she could not help her husband, Lady Nithdale refused the offer and, immediately, set about to find a way . . . [illegible]

Little by little she gained the confidence of the governor of the Tower and was allowed to visit her husband daily.

All the while she was laying everything she could to secure a pardon for her husband. But all failed.

Twenty-four hours before his execution was to take place she decided on a scheme for his deliverance.

Lady Nithdale went to the Tower presumably to say farewell to her husband.

With her she took two friends. One of the ladies was Mrs. Mills and the second, a Mrs. Morgan. Each in turn Lady Nithdale took in to say goodby to her husband. And as each entered she fearlessly played the part in the scheme Lady Nithdale had so carefully planned.

First, Mrs. Mills entered. She wore concealed garments, and as she took off—an entire costume, worked out in every detail.

Then entered Mrs. Morgan who took off her outer garments. Then Lady Nithdale quickly put on her husband. When Mrs. Morgan left the Tower she wore the clothes of Mrs. Mills had left for her.

Lady Nithdale remained behind in the cell carrying on an animated conversation with her husband and took it upon herself to give the party to get clear of the Tower.

Then she bid a suppressed good night to her husband and quietly passed by the guards to her carriage and . . . [illegible]

One can easily imagine the . . . [illegible] . . . woman had been in her supreme effort for . . . [illegible] . . . drama which . . . [illegible]

King George upon hearing of the Earl's escape, flew into a rage and at once ordered the arrest of Lady Nithdale. But this clever woman had hurried to Scotland where her child was hidden and fled to France where she joined her husband.

A witty Irishman was invited to a dinner party in Dublin. From the beginning to the end of the . . . he preserved a serious and solemn face. The host thought this very strange and remarked, "Why, my fellow, I don't believe the buffoon in Ireland could make you laugh tonight."

3 MINUTE JOURNEYS

By Temple Manning

THE oldest national ensign in the world is the crescent in the flag of Turkey. It is even older than the Ottoman Empire of Mahomet himself, for it came into use in Byzantium, the ancient Constantinople, about four hundred years before Christ was born.

Philip of Macedon was advancing to attack Byzantium under cover of darkness, but the crescent moon broke through a clouded sky and revealed the glittering spears of the Macedonian phalanxes in time to frustrate their attack. The townsfolk erected an altar to Hecate and stamped a crescent on their coins, which remained during the Roman days of Constantinople and was retained by the Turks when they became the rulers of the mighty city by the Bosphorus.

The remnants of Roman culture and civilization were shut up with in the walls of Constantinople for nearly a thousand years after Rome fell and Western Europe was in darkness. A double wall one hundred feet high and two hundred feet thick, with ninety-six towers on each wall, was sufficient to preserve the degenerate Greco-Romans within from the sturdy but ignorant barbarians clamoring at the gates for centuries.

The visitor to Constantinople today will see the mosque of Saint Sophia, the pride of the Mohammedan world, in some respects the finest church building in existence. It was built in 538, and was a Christian church for nine hundred years before the Mohammedans set foot within its portals. There are numerous other relics of this city that was Rome within the walls of Constantinople, and where the ancient buildings have been replaced with Turkish structures art and beauty have suffered.

There are a number of squares of beautiful modern buildings, parks and monuments in Constantinople, but the native quarters are dirty and squalid, the narrow streets lined by tumble-down houses.

The harbor of Constantinople, the Golden Horn, is a beautiful sheet of water, and the suburbs of Constantinople contain many fine modern villas. The palaces of the Sultans are vast and ugly piles of buildings, and the Turkish public buildings and mosques, of which there are a great number, are not particularly distinguished.

To wander through the streets of Constantinople is to see the most heterogeneous population in the world. The East and the West, the North and the South meet here.

MEDBURY SAYS—

By John P. Medbury

THE United States Health Department says that there is an epidemic of "Sleep Walking" in this country. This ought to be good news to chiropodists.

YOUR feet may be fine when you go to sleep tonight, but you're liable to wake up in the morning and find them covered with corns.

PEOPLE who have this disease usually retire with their shoes on.

ONE guy wore out six pairs of bedroom slippers until he had bob nails put in them.

LAST week the New York police department found seven persons going over their routes in the middle of the night from force of habit.

WOMEN walk in their sleep, too, but when they're awake they demand taxicabs.

THIS sickness isn't very serious, except that you're liable to be down in Brooklyn and get up in Albany.

ONE fellow always takes an anchor to bed with him.

ANOTHER very good plan is to lie on the floor and let your folks put the bed on top of you.

IF the bed isn't heavy enough, they can use the piano.

A CHICAGO man tried to cure himself of this habit by buying a watch dog, but it didn't do any good. The dog walked in his sleep, too.

OF course he made a mistake by buying the dog from a night watchman.

FORBES' VIEWS ON FINANCE

By B. C. Forbes

(Mr. Forbes will be in Boston from April 21 until April 26. During that time he will fill several speaking engagements and come in close contact with New England problems of business and finance.)

What has been happening business-wise is clear.

What is likely to happen is not clear, since conditions promise to be strongly affected by nearby events abroad and at home.

For my part I still feel that it is permissible to look for a reasonably favorable outcome.

The declines in commodity prices have outnumbered the advances more pronouncedly during the last three weeks than during any previous period in a long time.

* * *

The first index complication for March shows a drop of more than 2 per cent., an unusual fluctuation—the general price level is now at the lowest point since Mid-Summer.

Commercial failures have lately been unpleasantly numerous.

Employment has fallen off at quite a number of centres, a subject which may be discussed in this column within the next few days.

What of the outlook?

As I see it, the most influential news of all is likely to come from Europe. Whether it will be favorable or depressing cannot be foretold with certainty. However, it is permissible to hope that the news will be distinctly encouraging. If it should prove to be so, then I believe the effect in this country will be most decisive, probably making a distinct turning-point in our whole business trend.

* * *

Next in order of importance doubtless will be the course developments take at Washington.

My guess is that sensible tax legislation will be accomplished—probably before the next tax payment date, June 15.

I do not believe that the fate of the bonus bill, in its latest form, will cause any tremendous transformation in business sentiment one way or the other.

On the other hand, while the oil hubbub is likely to die down, the indications are that other disturbing activities will be eagerly prosecuted by the opponents of the present administration, with what temporary consequences cannot be stated.

* * *

There is at least this not unimportant consolation: Business, speaking broadly, is in a clean, healthy state, free from the inflationary tendencies which were developing in the early months of last year and which had not a little to do with the bringing on of the relapse later in the year. This year there is more warrant for improvement than the contrary.

CARRIERS LEAD RALLY STARTED AROUND NOON

Delay in making public the Dawes report was blamed in some quarters for the forenoon setback in today's New York stock list. Carriers led the rally started around noon.

Norfolk & Western and Chesapeake & Ohio rose between a point and two points. Southern Pacific and Union Pacific lowered a point each before rallying.

U. S. Steel was off a point. Crucible, Bethlehem and Republic all suggest a point. Gulf States retreated over 2 points to a fresh year's bottom.

U. S. Rubber, Kelly Springfield, Pierce Arrow, Fisk Rubber and American Aggie pfd. sold at new 1924 lows.

Steels, motors, chemicals and tobaccos bore the brunt of the selling pressure.

Corn Products lowered over 3.

Fisher Body dropped 4⅞ and General Electric fell back over 3 points from its early high.

Studebaker was off 1½. Baldwin 1⅜, and American Can 1¼.

Trading on the Boston Stock Exchange American Telephone was off a point from its opening. New England Telephone suffered a point before rallying. Dubilier rose 2⅞. Calumet & Arizona fell a point.

FINDS TRADE IS FAIRLY GOOD

By JULIUS KRUTTSCHNITT,
Chairman Board of Directors Southern Pacific Railroad.

American business is fairly good today, but hesitant because of unsettled income tax legislation and threatened tinkering with the transportation act before it has had opportunity, to function and inactivity of Congress.

Factors that would exert favorable influence on business are the adoption of a policy to give railroad problems time to solve themselves by leaving the transportation act, for a reasonable period and the prompt passage of the income tax bill following substantially the recommendations of the Presidents of the United States and the Secretary of the Treasury.

BUY USED CARS SAFELY

AN EXPERT'S INSPECTION FREE

No more "cat in bag" used car buying for Boston American readers. Automobile mechanics employed by The American examine every used car advertised in its columns. These experts report their findings on the blue certificate, which is then pasted on the windshield. Used car buyers read this certificate and they immediately have an expert's opinion as to the car's condition.

CERTIFICATE OF INSPECTED-INSURED

Only those used cars which have been carefully examined can carry the "Inspected-Inspired" blue certificate (reproduced at right). This certificate must be numbered, properly filled out, and signed by the Boston American inspector.

GOOD USED CARS LISTED BELOW

Now lists of bargain used car offerings appear on this page every Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Study them until you have found the used car for you.

The Man That Manufactures a Good Bed

And the Woman That Makes It Up Properly—Both Are Useful, Civilization Builders

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

A great service was rendered the United States and the whole world when George M. Pullman, born a poor boy, curing himself, as he told this writer, of the habit of smoking five-cent cigars that he might save the money for experiment, built his first Pullman sleeping car.

He built the car and ran it, standing beside the track, selling tickets on his one car, which ran from Chicago to Springfield, Illinois. He told this writer how he used to sell one berth to two men, each paying fifty cents. On one occasion a man that had paid his fifty cents for half of a berth came out and said, "Put me somewhere else. I can't sleep in there. The other man is taking up all the room."

"I went in," said Mr. Pullman, "and there was a tall man, with knees doubled up, so that the other man really COULDN'T get into the berth. And the man doubled up in the berth, by the way, was Abraham Lincoln."

When George M. Pullman started the sleeping car system that has now spread all over the world, he added years to the life, and infinitely to the comfort and health of the world's travelers, and especially to the business men of the United States. He rendered a great service to civilization and progress, and to prosperity.

What applies to George M. Pullman applies to every man that manufactures a comfortable, well-made bed.

It matters not whether it be plain or elaborate, expensive or inexpensive, provided it be COMFORTABLE.

Among beautiful words are these: "He giveth his beloveth sleep."

Great credit is due the man that gives good sleep to his fellow citizens by building a bed with springs and mattress, on which the body can thoroughly relax, find genuine comfort and lose itself in that sleep which is to the nervous system and all the energies of the body what charging the battery is to an electric automobile.

In sleep ALONE digestion is perfected.

In sleep alone the exhausted nervous forces are restored.

In sleep alone the mind finds the complete rest in which it clears itself of worries.

Only Shakespeare could describe sleep—"nature's sweet restorer" that "knits up the ravelled sleeve of care," etc.

But the American manufacturer who sells good and comfortable beds at a fair price does something that Shakespeare couldn't do. He doesn't DESCRIBE sleep, but he GIVES SLEEP.

Honor also the woman that knows HOW to MAKE UP a bed properly.

Sheets, blankets, well tucked in at the bottom, long enough at the top to be tucked in around the neck, a bed well smoothed out, well ventilated in the morning, turned over to air, pillows properly punched and banged, to keep elasticity alive and their contents evenly divided, all that is real domestic science.

To write a nice lullaby is a fine thing, but to manufacture a good bed and then make it up properly is a much finer thing.

Worrying Is Useful

No Progress Without It

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

President Coolidge's father, celebrating his seventy-ninth birthday by sawing wood outside of his little house, says: "Work hard and DON'T WORRY if you want to live to be old and healthy."

The work hard part is easy enough. Nearly everybody does that, driven by necessity or some inward power.

But, luckily for the world, the advice "don't worry" CAN'T be taken and WON'T be taken.

This planet owes what little it has to those that have worried.

When little boys in England were starved in order that they might be small enough to go up and down chimneys and clean them out, somebody worried and that was stopped.

Slavery was looked upon as one of God's institutions, thoroughly indorsed and praised by everybody. But Wilberforce and some others worried, and slavery ended—in civilized countries at least.

Smallpox worried Jenner, tuberculosis worried Koch and the fact that he could send only ONE message over a telegraph wire worried Edison. Boats relying on the wind for their motion worried Fulton. And from those worries you got smallpox vaccination, knowledge of the nature of tuberculosis, the method of sending several messages over one wire at the same time, and the steamboat.

And everything else worth while in this world, from a man reforming at fifty and trying to do his duty to a child well brought up by a worrying mother, is due TO WORRY.

Women Better Than Men

But Not Entirely Different

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

A vote over the radio on capital punishment showed that while women voted against it, 177 to 147, they were not OVERWHELMINGLY against it.

There is nothing surprising in that, no argument in favor of capital punishment.

Ladies in Spain are not overwhelmingly against bull fighting. Ladies in ancient Rome turned down their thumbs with the others when they wanted the victorious gladiator to kill his fallen foe.

Ladies of olden days didn't shudder so much, probably, when poisons were tried on slaves or when slaves were thrown to fishes to give them a delicate flavor.

And Hawaiian ladies probably looked on calmly enough when their king, proudly styling himself "The Great Shark Catcher," used live men and children for bait in catching sharks.

Women are human beings always a LITTLE better than the men, but not OVERWHELMINGLY better.

Nevertheless, capital punishment is barbarism, a disgrace to civilized government, and it won't last long.

I See by the Papers -:- By T. E. Powers

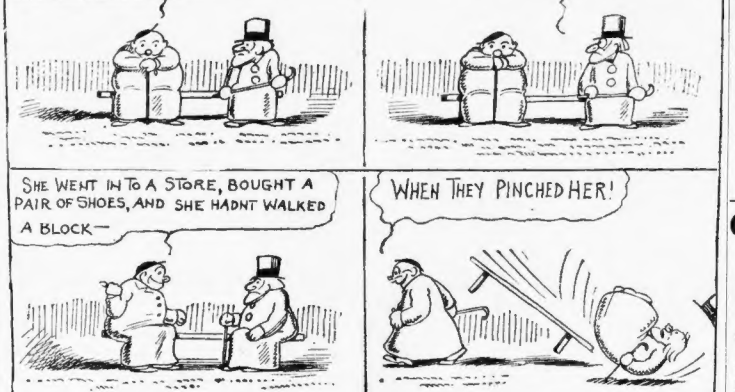
Copyright, 1924, Star Co.



WELL, I SEE THEY CAUGHT THE BOBBED HAIRED BANDIT!
DO TELL!
HOW DID IT HAPPEN?
SHE WENT IN TO A STORE, BOUGHT A PAIR OF SHOES, AND SHE HADNT WALKED A BLOCK—
WHEN THEY PINCHED HER!

LISTEN, WORLD! -:- By ELSIE ROBINSON

THEY'RE going to wear their pants tailored for the next four years in Weaverville, Trinity County, California. And Charles Scheu will baste serges instead of pounding rocks on the county pile. All of which means that a great light is beginning to dawn on the judicial horizon. Here's the yarn: Charles Scheu is a tailor. He is also a bad-check artist. Recently he passed spurious checks totaling $1,000 on the business men of his community. Wherefore the long arm of the law reached out and grabbed Charles, and the usual prison sentence seemed imminent. But Weaverville folks needed a tailor. Charles Scheu behind the bars could do no tailoring. Neither could he repay the money taken from the merchants nor reimburse the taxpayers for the expense he caused them while in jail. From any angle, Charles in jail promised to be a total loss. But Charles Scheu out of jail, but under supervision, could be made into an asset.

So there was the problem which the citizens of Weaverville faced in dealing with Charles. By putting him in jail they would punish him. But they'd also punish themselves. Their pants and pocketbooks would be penalized for Charlie's crime. On the other hand, how about a sentence which would work to their profit instead of their loss? Good scheme. Everyone thought well of it. And so Superior Judge Walter E. Herzinger has just passed one of the strangest sentences in the history of the State. Under the terms of this sentence Scheu must not leave Weaverville. All his earnings in the role of tailor to Trinity County must be given to the probation officer, who first will pay Scheu's living expenses. The county then will be reimbursed for expenditures entailed by Scheu's lawbreaking, and, finally, the merchants whom he cheated will be paid.

There, I protest, is at least one sane act to the credit of the twentieth century. No, I'm not about to make a maudlin plea for criminals. I do not feel in the least maudlin about criminals. I realize perfectly the danger of bad-check artists, and I'm strong for the law which gives some protection against their practices. But why not devise a plan which would protect us even more? Why double our losses by a form of punishment which penalizes the innocent with the guilty?

A nation's most precious possession is its man-power. The loss of man-power is infinitely greater than the loss of money or land. Every barred criminal means lost man-power. The citizens of Weaverville needed a tailor. Imprisonment of Charles Scheu meant the loss of a necessary worker to the whole community. The imprisonment of any man means the loss of a worker to some community. On top of that there is the expense of keeping that cooped worker. That is what our present system does. It is a clumsy, costly, ineffective system, as well as a cruel system. It doesn't cure the evil. It doesn't repay the cost incurred. And it penalizes everyone involved. It is evident that crime should not go unregarded, nor criminals unwatched. But how much more sane to arrange matters so that the punishment will not be even more stupid and wasteful than the crime? WHAT'S THE USE OF PUNISHING FORGERS AND THIEVES AT ALL IF, AS A COMMUNITY, WE'RE GOING TO DO EVEN MORE HARM THAN THEY DID AS INDIVIDUALS!

Think over that last question as you go about your work today. This is truly YOUR intimate problem. YOUR tax money is keeping criminals in idleness. YOUR tax money is building extensions to prisons, hiring more guards, supporting destitute families. And every cent you spend in that way is taken from the service of your own family. Does it seem a sensible system?

THE HELPING HAND

Letters Not Answered Personally. No Attention Paid to Telephone Calls or Anonymous Letters. No Names Published.

Hasn't a Penny

Editor Helping Hand:

I hate to ask you for this favor, but I really have to. My husband has gone away for some time. He has deserted me and gone to New Jersey, and I expect to become a mother in two months. I haven't even a pin for the child, as I haven't a penny. The city is taking care of me. If you have any baby's clothes I will be very glad to get them and also something for a boy two years old. He wears a sweater all the time now, because he has so few clothes. MRS. A. G. N.

For making Over

Editor Helping Hand:

I have some clothes that some needy children from ages eight to eleven could use. I have a Spring coat, several dresses and skirts that can be altered, some pieces of material that some mother could make up for children the ages I mentioned. Please send the address of somebody who can use the things. My mother will pay the postage. S. E. R.

Thank you. You have been sent the address of mothers with small children who will be glad to "make over" the clothing you offer.

Father in Hospital

Editor Helping Hand:

I am a young mother of twenty-six and have seven little children. My husband is in the City Hospital and is not expected to get well. My children have practically no clothes. I have two little girls, six and seven, and my boys are three, four and five. I have also a baby seventeen months old and one seven weeks. I haven't anything to wear myself, size 38. Anything you could do for me would help me so much. Please try and help me. MRS. F. A. B.

For an Infant

Editor Helping Hand:

Kindly send me the address of some one in need of some infant's things. They are things my baby has outgrown. Shall be more than glad to give them to some one. Also I should like to have some strap bands and shirts for a baby from six months to a year. MRS. R. N. L.

Thank you. You have been sent the address of Mrs. H. V., whose new baby is the fourth little one in the family. We will let you know if anyone has what you ask for.

Home for Dog

Editor Helping Hand:

All who answered A. M. K.'s offer of a dog will be glad to know that we have just heard that she found a good home for it in Arlington. We have also heard from Mrs. W. V. L. who recently offered two dogs through the Helping Hand. She has found homes for both of them in Boston, one of them going to a shut-in.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON TRAGEDY AND COMEDY

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE two most interesting things in the world are laughter and tears.

They constitute the world's tragedy and comedy; which, since time began, have made up the theatric stage.

We go about clothed in conventions, each one of us clad in his thick armor of propriety. Thus we are to each other, for the most part, puppets, stalking dominoes in the masquerade of life. It is laughter and tears that reveal to each other that we are living souls.

In order to carry on the great battle of existence each must have his place in the army of society as, on the field, there are generals, colonels, lieutenants, privates and the like. In business, we have manager and clerk, messenger and office boy; in society we have circles of aristocracy, of bourgeoisie and proletariat; and in whatever other sphere of endeavor we go we have our grades, positions, precedences, man and master, servant and lord, principal and agent and the like.

And every once in a while there comes a gush of tears and sweeps the artificial barrier away and we discover that after all the gentleman with the coronet and silken shirt and the poor barefoot gentleman in rags and dirt are twin flames burning with the same heats and sending forth the same radiations of glory or of shame.

When we sit in the theatre we may be at first like a handful of loose beads but, when the clown starts his laughter, it runs through us all and we discover that we are each but a living pearl in the necklace of souls.

Preachers may preach human brotherhood until they are black in the face; but all their arguments are not worth one note of laughter nor one salt and genuine tear.

We might forget that this earth we tread is but the thin, cooled crust covering a molten mass, did not the volcano now and then spout up its lava.

So we might forget that the blood in all men comes from one reservoir and the souls of all men are sparks from the same fire, if, now and then, laughter did not shake us and tears reveal our inward consanguinity.

For laughter is the earthquake and tears are the volcanic lava that reveal the molten unity of the human race.

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON THE HOLY GRAIL

By Garrett P. Serviss

Famous Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest

THE legend of "The Holy Grail" is not ostensibly a subject of scientific interest; nevertheless it is deeply rooted in the subsoil of psychology. Therefore the mere suggestion that an ancient cup, now in New York, and known as "the Antioch chalice," may or might be the Holy Grail itself stirs many thoughts that are not necessarily awakened by faith in the great Christian legend, which shed a shower of poetry and romance over the Middle Ages, and flashed again for a while in the spectrum of Alfred Tennyson's verse.

Scarcely six months ago, on revisiting the Pyrenees and their surroundings, I was vividly reminded of how that legend still, to the eye of the imagination, spires up, like an imperishable St. Elmo's flame, from the strange, sky-pointing, rock fingers of the "sacred mountain," Monsagrat, or Montserrat, in Catalonia.

The name of these curious rocks, towering on the crest of the mountain, is Guardians of the Holy Grail." It is a medieval German tradition that fixes there the hiding place of the sacred cup from which Christ drank wine at the marriage in Cana, and which received his blood at the Crucifixion.

Standing in a mountain pocket near their feet, with the celebrated monastery made world-famous by other legends relating to St. Luke and St. Ignatius Loyola, close at hand, one's fancy can see "Sir Galahad, on his goodly charger borne," riding undaunted through the tempest and snow, through flood and waste, resistlessly pursuing the immortal quest.

"The clouds are broken in the sky
And thro' the mountain walls
A rolling organ-harmony
Swells up and shakes and falls.
Then move the trees, the copses nod,
Wings flutter, voices hover clear;
'O just and faithful knight of God,
Ride on! the prize is near.'
So pass I hostel, hall and grange,
By bridge and ford, by park and pale,
All-arm'd I ride, whate'er betide
Until I find the Holy Grail."

A talisman having so long-lasting and powerful an influence over the minds of millions of men plays an actual part in history. And, together with others of its kind, it must be taken into account in the study of human psychology—for there may be a sub-human psychology, too.

Scientific archaeologists are said to have pronounced the cup now in New York to be at any rate old enough to have served at the marriage in Cana and at the Crucifixion, although they give no opinion, and, indeed, could give none, concerning the rightness or wrongness of the guess that this object is the real Grail. Granted that the decision as to the age of the cup is correct, of course, anyone who wishes may regard it as the very object that the wandering, self-devoting knights traversed the world in search of.

But it is the legend, not the cup, that possesses a psychological interest. Like the legend of the "Wandering Jew," it is a flight of the human imagination, taking off from a standpoint of historic fact. The original facts may be more or less travestied in the evolution of the legend, but nevertheless they give it all the "body" that it ever had, and solely to the depth of interest which they originally awoke, does the legend owe its existence and its persistence. Thus considered, the story of the Holy Grail becomes a scientific document of far-reaching significance.

MAKE GOOD LESSONS ONLY, BE REWARDED BY SOCIAL EVENTS

Instead of letting your child take part in so many public performances, why do you not insist on a perfect school report card first.

So many one hundred per cent. averages before your child is allowed to go to a party or the movies would get results which would be satisfactory.

With too many, the stories, the entertainments, the games are the first consideration and the daily perfect lesson is secondary.

The bad habit of using a "pony" or copying another's work then is formed.

Possibly a little "pal" who wants a companion socially and who is able to "get the answers" quicker keeps the child supplied with enough helps to make a good showing, if it can manage to have just certain questions to answer.

Some mothers and fathers and the teachers themselves would be surprised at how keenly the kiddies have sized up what can be expected day after day, when it comes to what will be required of each—who will be called on to recite.

And so the young students skin through, thinking more of the clothes they will need to wear at each function than they ever think of the lesson as applied to future life.

Don't permit your child to get into this habit.

In after years they will find out the difference.
